Canton will get federal job funds

By RICHARD GOLD

CANTON—Money available to municipalities under the Comprehensive Employment Training ACT (CETA) may be elusive, but not to township officers Carl Parsell and John Flodin. The two officials dug through "reams of paper" and happily announced that Canton Township would receive more than $48,000 of the federal funds.

Township Clerk John Flodin explained, "Well I don't mean to seem ungrateful, but I have just been snowed under mounds of paper to get this money."

The funds, while granted by the federal government, are distributed to local governments through the county.

In the summer of 1974, Canton officials became aware that the township was eligible for $50,000 of the federal money.

But no final steps were taken to pursue the grant until this month when the new administration decided to try for the money.

Originally it had been hoped that the $50,000 might go to pay for six new firemen hired in August, but only one of the six met the CETA prerequisites which state that recipients of the money must be unemployed for at least 30 days or presently underemployed. Underemployed is defined as making less than $4,000 annually while working full time, or working at a part-time job and taking home no more than $20 a week.

Flodin explained that firefighters were hired for their ability to stop fires and not because they were unemployed for 30 days or more. Consequently only one met the necessary stipulations for the CETA funds.

That left $40,000 in CETA money that the township could not claim.

"In an effort to kill two birds with one stone," the township administration decided to meet some of its manpower needs while applying for the remaining CETA funds.

Treasurer Parsell and Supervisor Robert Greenstein discussed the needs of the township and decided that several jobs needed filling.

This week the township will begin interviewing for six new positions: three dispatchers at the fire station, one Department of Public Works laborer, an ordinance officer, and an asistant ordinance officer.

Parsell hopes to fill the dispatcher positions with physically handicapped people and he adds that Canton residents will be given first crack at all the positions.

Once the jobs are filled the township will begin receiving the CETA money on a monthly basis.

The $48,000 will run until June 30, at which time the grant will expire. Parsell adds, "All the positions are temporary full time employment situations."

But the treasurer comments, "Usually in these situations, the grants are not terminated permanently. They usually follow up with another grant."

Students join in family symphony concert

PLYMOUTH—The seventh and eighth grade members of the East Middle School Chorus will make their largest musical debut Sunday to the accompaniment of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

The 73-member chorus, directed by William Grimmer, will perform "Creatures and Colors, Six Songs for Children's Chorus and Orchestra," at the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra's family concert, beginning at 4 p.m. in the Plymouth Salem High School Auditorium.

"Creatures and Colors," written by former Plymouth Symphony member Lee Eitzen, was commissioned by the orchestra and first performed in January 1963. The work is based on the folk songs of six countries— Ireland, Greece, India, Germany, Israel and the United States.

The chorus, a select group of students who audition for the singing class, has practiced for the performance since the end of Christmas vacation, Grimmer said. The chorus and orchestra will squeeze in last-minute rehearsals Saturday night and Sunday.

"It's a tremendous experience for the kids to sing with a full-fledged orchestra," Grimmer said. "They don't have that opportunity very often. Educationally, it's good to work in class and see the results of your work in a concert.

WILLIAM GRIMMER

"I think it's a tremendous experience for the kids," he added. "It's a lot of extra work for me and the kids, but I think it's worth it."

Grimmer said the chorus will perform four concerts this year.

Although Sunday will mark the first appearance with the orchestra for current members of the chourus, Grimmer said former chorus members performed a medley of American folk songs with the Plymouth Symphony about three years ago.

Other members of the East Middle School Chorus performed with the orchestra 10 or more years ago, he said.

Grimmer, East Middle School's vocal music director who teaches five general music classes besides, has taught music in the Plymouth Community School District for 18 years.

He received bachelor of arts and science degrees from the University of Minnesota and a master of music education degree from the University of Colorado. Before moving to Plymouth, Grimmer taught classes in Minnesota, Colorado and Iowa.

Other works on Sunday's Family Concert program are "Pictures at an Exhibition," written by Modeste Mussorgsky and orchestrated by Maurice Ravel; "Pleasure Train Polka" by Johann Strauss; "The Little Train of the Brasilian Countryman" by Villa-Lobos; and "Pacific 231" by Arthur Honegger.

Builders, planners discuss zoning changes

By RICHARD GOLD

CANTON—Tuesday night's planning commission meeting may have been scheduled as a public hearing on proposed interim ordinance zoning changes— but it turned into an exclusive dialogue between the planning commission, particularly chairman Joseph Kinnick, and a contingent of the biggest land developers and builders doing business in the township.

The builders came prepared—armed with attorney Richard Lewiston, owner of Practical Homebuilders—one of the biggest land development firms operating in Canton.

Lewiston, a dapper, erudite man, spent more than four hours debating with the commission, and his arguments were persuasive enough to encourage Kinnick to ask him back to the planning commission's study sessions.

However, the invitation did not sit well with the rest of the planners, as Gus Matzo summarized the sentiment of the rest the commission by responding, "That's like giving the cat the key to the canary's cage."

Several areas of the 30-odd page document drew heavy fire from the builders, but as Lewiston admitted, the biggest concern was over the proposed schedule of regulations, and the side yard dimensions of 60 foot lots. (R1-C)

Lewiston charged that the commission would be "forcing a lot of builders out of business" if the proposed ordinance was accepted.

The change in the schedule of regulations that brought the complaints was the requirement of 15 feet of side yard space, with 10 feet on one side and five feet on the other. Currently, builders are in the habit of building 50 foot homes on the R1-C lots and this side yard regulation would force them to offer smaller homes, they claimed.

Lewiston added that the ordinance "lacked fairness," and that the end result would be "lower quality homes." "Quite frankly, you're going to end up with a 45-foot house, and it is a poorer product," Lewiston said. A lot of builders only have one type of house they build—they're going to put you right out of business."

"People are buying the house, not the property, "continued the builder, and I think you'll find that people come to buy the 50-foot house, because it is the biggest house they can afford. They don't want larger lots, they want a larger house."

SEVERAL OTHER areas in the proposed zoning ordinance also drew heavy criticism from the builders.

In particular, the "get tough" ordinance on signs in the township, and the deletion of a section on planned unit developments (PUDs) produced a lot of dialogue.

The sign ordinance, touted by Supervisor Robert Greenstein as a "comprehensive measure" was the first item to draw fire at the meeting. Kinnick explained the rationale for the ordinance, "We don't want this township to be a mecca for signs. We are tired of builders leaving signs after they fill up their subdivisions."

Builder Lewis Heckman said, "It's a good form of advertising. There's nothing wrong with a proper sign with a proper advertisement for a proper product." Heckman suggested upping the limit on directional signs from two, to four or six.

Carl Parsell responded from the commission table that the builders were "lucky" to get two signs. "There was a lot of discussion on this matter and we definitely considered

A SHOW OF FORCE by striking employes of UAW Local 157 at Whitman & Barnes Wednesday brought out close to 300 pickets and six cars from the Wayne County Sherrif's Road Patrol. A few minor scuffles were reported as the pickets tried to block entry to several vehicles. The strike is now in its 15th week, with the union complaining that the parent company, TRW, is farming out work to other plants throughout the country, keeping the Plymouth Township plant shut down. Talks between the union and TRW officials have been broken off no plans for a resumption of bargaining have been made. (Staff photo by Art Emanuel)

Wayne 2nd Republicans take sides on issues

By TIM RICHARD

Republicans in the 2nd District-Wayne declared in convention they are against public employes' strikes and opposed to underwriting public utilities' bonds. In taproom conversations, they are promoting outgoing Chairman Sylvia Skrel for any party or public office that might suit her time and fancy.

Under a new system of polling the Grand Old Party faithful, precinct delegates from Livonia, Plymouth and Northville last week expressed their views on five questions presented by the state party organization, then added a few of their own.

The 37 delegates who attended a convention in Livonia's Bentley High School also picked 30 delegates to the Feb. 14-15 state convention in Grand Rapids, where a state chairman and state central committee will be elected.

GREATEST DIVISION came on a proposal that the state insure the bonds of electric utilities—specifically Consumers Power and Detroit Edison—so that they could sell bond issues more cheaply and expand facilities.

Sixty per cent of those voting opposed the idea, only 6.6 per cent favored it and one-third abstained. Beverly Chiasson, a co-chairperson of the issues committee, argued that the companies themselves believe state government is too small to give them adequate help and are looking for a federal solution instead.

Other questions drew these responses:

A five-year moratorium on auto emissions standards: 93.5 per cent in favor, 3.2 each opposed or abstaining. (President Ford proposed the plan to avoid heavy cost increases for autos at a time when sales are slumping.)

Requiring party registration by voters so that voters of one party can't cross over to the other party in a primary: 78 per cent opposed. 16 per cent in favor, six per cent abstained.

Public financing of campaigns for governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state and attorney general: 88 per cent opposed, 12 per cent in favor.

State approval of the federal "Conrail" plan to reorganize eastern railroads and abandon 37 per cent of Michigan's track mileage now deemed too unprofitable: 33 per cent in favor, 24 per cent opposed, 43 per cent abstaining.

ON LOCALLY proposed questions, Wayne-2nd Republicans took these stands:

Should public employe strikes be prevented by "providing a means for peaceful and equitable resolution" of disputes? 94 per cent in favor, six per cent opposed, no abstentions.

Should the state balance the budget and forego any new or increased taxes? 97 per cent in favor, three per cent abstaining. (Wording of the question left in doubt whether local Republicans support or oppose Gov. Milliken's tax program. The Republican governor has proposed an income tax increase to replace sales tax revenues lost by elimination of the tax on food and prescription drugs. Whether the Milliken proposal is, strictly speaking, an increase is the question.)

Should the U.S. aggressively pursue and remove illegal aliens as a method of protecting Americans' jobs? 97 per cent in favor and three per cent abstaining.

HARRY GREENLEAF
GOP Chairman

Should the U.S. place a moratorium on immigration during the economic crisis? 75 per cent in favor, 18 per cent opposed, seven per cent abstaining.

Support of President Ford especially in his foreign policies and efforts to maintain Mideast peace: 93 per cent in favor, seven per cent abstaining. Martin Seitz of Livonia argued the resolution was more than a "God, motherhood and apple pie" statement because "blind faith in political leaders is a thing of the past."

Shall judges be required to mete out a five-year minimum penalty for crimes involving the use of firearms? 88 per cent in favor, eight per cent opposed, four per cent abstaining.

AS SHE STEPPED down from the Wayne-2nd chairmanship, Mrs. Skrel was applauded for leading the local GOP to victory during what was a Democratic landslide everywhere else in Michigan.

Stepping up from the vice chairmanship is Harry Greenleaf.

Elected state convention delegates were these 30 persons:

Livonia—Sally Bennett, Charles Chandler, Beverly Chiasson, Sophia Craja, Harry Greenleaf, Jean Hinton, J. Carrol Kay, George Kettunen, David Leathley, Michael Legg, Joyce LeMaster.

Plymouth: Don Morgan, Pat Krolikowski, John Sullivan, Mark McKelvey, Tony Licata and Carol Sallman.

Northville: E.O. (Bud) Weber, Hester Courter and Irving Benson.

Greenleaf promotes unity

For Harry Greenleaf, being chairman of the 2nd Congressional District-Wayne Republican organization isn't so much a matter of building a party but keeping a good thing going.

Greenleaf was vice chairman under Sylvia Skrel for the last two years in the Wayne-2nd, which includes Livonia, Northville and Plymouth. The Wayne-2nd saved Congressman Marvin Esch from defeat and re-elected Republican incumbents by healthy margins during a state Democratic landslide.

"I've got great hopes for our youth organization. We've had a strong party organization. I want to go forward and build," said Greenleaf after last week's convention of local precinct delegates in Livonia's Bentley High School.

"The main thing is to organize our new committee. We have five or six new faces," said Greenleaf. "We have to keep the organization going between election years, and get precinct delegates elected in 1976."

LOCAL Republicans are encouraging Mrs. Skrel to seek either a local public office or a higher position in the party— either State Central Committee member or chairman of the entire 2nd Congressional District organization. Those party posts will be filled at the GOP state convention Feb. 14-15 in Grand Rapids.

GREENLEAF, 38, of 35936 Pinetree, Livonia, is supervisor of salaried personnel on the technical affairs staff of Ford Motor Co.

Raised in New York state, he attended Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and settled in Livonia 11 years ago.

He worked on Jack McDonald's first congressional campaign in 1966 in the old 19th District and became a precinct delegate in 1970, member of the district executive board in 1970 and chairman of the Livonia GOP organization in 1973.

IN CITY AFFAIRS, he is a member of the mayor's 50-citizen public safety group, chairing the study of fire inspection and arson investigation programs.

Other officers in the Wayne-2nd, all elected without opposition by voice vote, include:

Vice chairman, Barbara McKelvey; youth vice chairman, Lorette Chiasson; secretary, Hester Courter; treasurer, Art Sippola.

CAN HE DO IT? That was, no doubt, a question on everyone's mind as The Great Zandu, (the world's greatest stunt man) performed one of his tremendous feats: bursting a balloon to the roll of drums. Zandu and many of his fellow troupers in the Friends Roadshow brought a little bit of the old vaudeville to Fiegel School and others in the Plymouth area this week, to the enjoyment of students and teachers alike. Vaudeville roadshow invades Plymouth schools

By DARLENE STINSON

"I liked the stunt man who dived into the cup," said Theresa Martin, a second grader at Tanger Elementary School.

"I liked the thing where the three guys put the stuff around," added second grader Karleen McMullen, while second grader Lori Piper interjected, "I liked everything."

The three referred to a vaudeville revue show entitled "Michael Spaghetti's Half Ring Circus" and performed by the Friends Roadshow, a troupe of 10 professional performers and musicians, in six elementary schools in the Plymouth Community School District so far this week.

With wide-open eyes and wells of laughter bubbling from within, pupils at each of the schools absorbed all aspects of the performance without reminders from their teachers, who chuckled at their sides.

Tripping over spectators seated at the rear of the room, three clumsy clowns begin the show in frantic efforts to string colorful streamers across the room.

Other antics follow, as the Great Zandu, the world's greatest stunt man, dives head-first into a cup of water, and two can-can girls collide bottoms in the midst of their act.

Pero the clown juggles three balls to the tune "Sweet Georgia Brown" and afterward tosses his fingers and thumb to other clowns in the troupe.

"Our reward is coming into the schools," explained Michael Spaghetti, alias Mark Strong, after the performance at Tanger School. "Laughter is our pay. Most children get their entertainment on television. We'd like to bring them something else.

"I just think a clown is something everyone can relate to," Strong said. "The clown is a classic. It goes all the way back to the court jesters, and there's a little bit of a clown in everyone.

"We want to show the kids that we're clowns, and they're clowns too. Hopefully, they'll discover that."

Sponsored by the Plymouth Community Arts Council on its tour of the Plymouth schools, the American Company of the Friends Roadshow was founded last June to revive vaudeville on the American scene.

Performing throughout the nation in nightclubs, theaters and schools, the American company is one of four Friends Roadshow troupes, located in London, Paris and Amsterdam.

Strong said three members of the London company and one of the Amsterdam are participating in the performances in the Plymouth schools, and the American troupe will tour Europe with the London company this summer.

The Friends Roadshow has already performed at Tanger, Farrand, Fiegel, Miller, Starkweather and Smith elementary schools.

Other performances are slated for today (Thursday) at 10 a.m. at Allen Elementary School; today (Thursday), 1:30 p.m., Gallimore Elementary School; Friday, Jan. 24, 10 a.m., Isbister Elementary School; Friday, Jan. 24, 1:30 p.m., Central Elementary School; Monday, Jan. 27, 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., Our Lady of Good Counsel, and Tuesday, Jan. 28, 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., East Middle School.

Planning continues for new Northville state police post site

By RICHARD GOLD

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP—Plans for the State Police post in Northville are progressing, despite funding cutbacks. The post, to be located just west of the Northville State Hospital complex on Seven Mile, will cost $2.24 million according to current estimates.

State Sen. Carl Pursell has maintained an active interest in the post and he expects it will "be the largest in the state." It'll serve western Wayne County mostly, but it will also be a regional facility," he says.

Captain Walter Anderson of the State Police explains, "Our patrol area will be Canton, Plymouth and Northville Townships, but the lab will serve a much larger area, as will the detective bureau."

The facility will be built on 11½ acres and will cover 40,300 square feet. The crime laboratory currently located at the Plymouth subpost will be moved there and the complex will serve as Second District headquarters.

ACCORDING TO Anderson, a second district commander, the facility will house 106 men when it opens and will have a capacity for 145 should the staff need to be expanded.

The second district is composed of portions of seven counties: Wayne, Oakland, Lapeer, Macomb, St. Clair, Monroe and Washtenaw. Eight subposts will report to the new complex.

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new facility were held in October. Since then, funding cutbacks have jeopardized the schedule for the new post, originally slated for completion in 1976.

Pursell explains, "After Proposition C was passed in November, the two congressional appropriation committees cut back $80 million in an effort to balance the budget." Of that $80 million, $38 million was removed from the capital outlay program that was supposed to fund the new post, he added.

"We had a million already allocated for the post, but half of the second year budget of $900,000 was deleted.

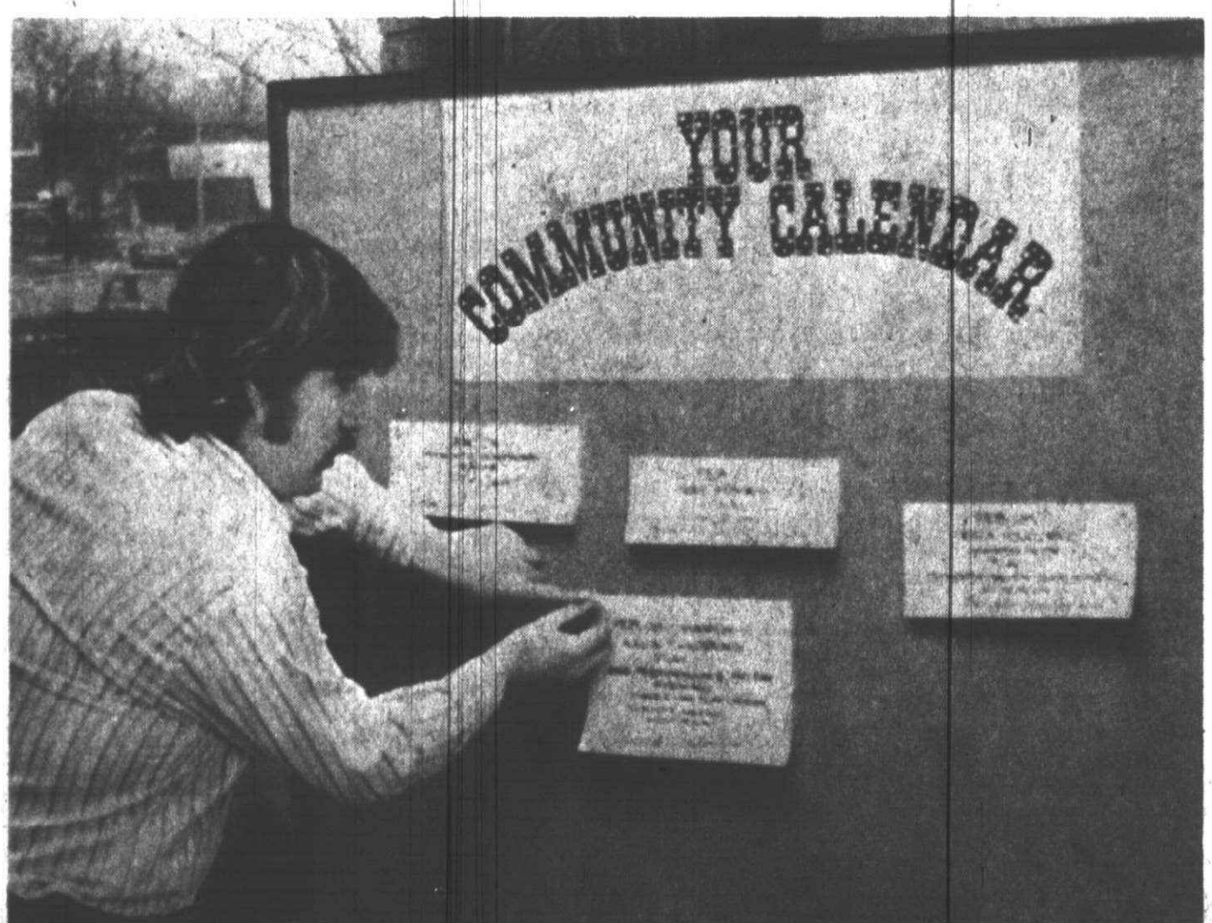

"Future monies depend on the shape of the economy. Right now we don't know how much money we'll have," commented the senator.

PURSELL, however, did investigate the possibility of proceeding with the planned police post. He found that there was $420,000 left in the account for the new complex.

As a result Pursell hopes that the bidding documents will be completed by the end of March and "a target date of April 1 has been set for receipt of bids."

If the bids are accepted by April 1, Pursell thinks the contracts can be

Free workshop offered to jobless

By CORINNE ABATT

There could be a small stampede at the special free workshop for the jobless offered by the Livonia schools' continuing education department, next Tuesday, Jan. 28 at 7:30 at Churchill High School, 8900 Newburgh, just north of Joy, Livonia.

But, a small stampede is hardly likely to do anything other than delight the workshop leader, Mrs. Brook Carey.

Thinking creatively about the expected and unexpected is one quality that has brought her this far in the business and professional world.

THE WOMAN, as good a listener as she is a talker, presently heads two companies of her own. One deals with management consulting, while the other, Executeam, Inc., specializes in career counseling.

"I got into career counseling four years ago devising strategies for people who are thinking of changing careers or need to find a position."

She pauses to add, "I like to use the word position—there are jobs and there are positions."

In the Livonia workshop she will be doing almost everything except suggesting the standard approaches to job hunting.

"WE'LL BE talking about creative approaches to finding positions, differ-

Seniors forum begins

CANTON—A forum for senior citizens, sponsored by Schoolcraft College, begins today at the Township Fire Hall, Canton Center and Cherry Hill roads.

Entitled "Health and Safety in Later Years," the forum will meet from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. each Thursday through Feb. 27.

Many informative topics have been scheduled by Betty Andrews who heads the senior adult program at the college. The programs include: "Medicare," a discussion and explanation by Thomas Glass of Blue Cross; "The Visiting Nurse Association" with Nancy Cozak, R.N.; and "Fire Safety in the Home" by retired fire chief Gerald Montgomery.

Also "Defensive Driving" by Ted Bussey of the Detroit Safety Council; "First Aid," presented by the Canton Township Fire Department; and "Family and Friends in Later Years — Rx for Good Health" by social worker Margaret Larson.

There is no charge for the forum and further information can be obtained through Mrs. Andrews at Schoolcraft College.

eliminating direction signs althogether."

The proposed deletion of the PUD ordinance for further study stirred Lewiston to comment, "If you get rid of the PUD you will be doing yourself a disservice. It will be a community loss."

He continued, "Certain developments lend themselves to this concept of building rather than the conventional single family development. You get the added benefit of a coordinated effort for the whole development. Rather than a fractionalized building you get one overall package and that's good for the community."

Lewiston added that many PUDs still on the drawing boards would be stopped and that builders would have no guidelines to operate by when designing nonconventional developments. "This sort of ordinance change is going to stop us now and idle us for the next building season."

The only other item to come under heavy fire was a change in site plan review procedure. It stipulated that a builder must start construction within a year after he receives site plan approval, or resubmit his site plan again for approval. This ordinance was to be retroactive to 1967.

Lewiston again spoke for the builders, "There has been an obvious change of attitude toward builders in this township since the new administration took office. But this ordinance is unfair and suggests that all the work that took place over the past years is somehow suspect and not based on good judgment. There's no need for this to be immediately retroactive."

Instead, Lewiston suggested a grace period. "In Troy, I know when they suggested a similar ordinance they gave builders two years notice. I think it would be appropriate for this commission to consider a similar grace period."

The planning commission members ended the meeting by saying they would take all that was said "under advisement," but not before former commissioner Wes Kaiser spoke, "I have been sitting here in the audience and I hope that in my many years on the commission I did not run meetings this way. This has not been a public hearing. You have cut the people off to talk to the builders. The point of a public hearing is to listen to what the residents of the township want, not the builders."

ences between good and bad resumes, cover letters and whether you even need a resume."

That last comment comes immediately after mentioning she has had success inventing jobs rather than filling positions an employer may advertise or list through an agency.

"Statistics indicate that only five per cent of jobs are found through an employment agency. So, we'll be talking about the first error of using an agency exclusively as the source for employment."

She gives the impression management recruiters are not a particularly good source for the unemployed. "They're interested in those already employed, not in looking at the resume of an unemployed person."

COMMENTING that she will be giving away many of her trade secrets at the workshop, she explains her willingness through a philosophy she lives day to day.

"You can't be needing from other people. To do this kind of work, you've got to be giving more than needing."

This leads to the belief that creative thinking requires a "whole person," someone capable of giving and receiving gracefully.

"A lot of people through some misguidance are working to be the perfect person. Being a whole person and working toward it in a practical way, that's important. Telling somebody to be a better person, that's balony."

In the two hour workshop at Churchill, Mrs. Carey will dip into a good many aspects of employment (and unemployment) problems, getting into areas like systematic problem solving and new questions for old answers.

"MOST PEOPLE have all the answers, it's the questions they don't know. I supply the questions. I guess I'm a catalyst."

One of her approaches to both employers and those looking for employment is the "what if...?" game.

"What if you could find a person who could handle all these responsibilities? What if you had someone to do all this complicated filing...?"

She uses the questions to open up new channels of thought and start the motivation process.

She isn't quite sure how she motivates people and she wonders, almost afraid to verbalize it, if it doesn't have something to do with the transference of energy.

She does have enough energy to pass around even to a small stampede and she's hoping for something just like that.

Young graduates, early retirees, those in their early 30s feeling boxed in, career oriented women, minority groups—the whole bunch could benefit at the workshop where some trade secrets are sure to be exchanged.

Park may get federal funding

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP—Federal money to construct park facilities and renovate the township's newly purchased golf course may be on the way if all goes well with township's application to the Department of Natural Resources.

More than $3 million of Federal money is available from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, and the township hopes to get a piece of the pie.

Explained Township Supervisor J.D. McLaten, "We are trying to get $25,000 which we will match with our funds." But the supervisor is not overly optimistic. "We don't really know how much will be available to us."

At Tuesday night's meeting, the board instucted the firm of Norman L. Dietrich Associates to proceed with the necessary preparation and filings for the funding.

"As we understand it," commented the supervisor, "golf courses have a low priority with the bureau, so our efforts will be to get money for recreational facilities."

Both the Wayne County Planning Commission and the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments have approved the request for funds which must be filed to the DNR in its final form by March 1.

Plans continue for state police awarded by the beginning of May.

According to the senator, the initial planning for the post is complete, and once the bidding is taken care of, the project can move ahead full speed.

"If we can get the project started, it will have a high priority for additional funds. I have asked for a new scheduling to keep the project on time and I hope we can finish funding it by July 1," Pursell said.

"I'd like to see the post completed in the spring of 1976," adds Pursell, "but I can't promise that. I've been in this business too long to make promises I am not sure I can keep."

THE FUTURE of the Plymouth subpost, located on Mill Street between Ann Arbor Trail and Ann Arbor Road, is unresolved. It will be decided upon when the new complex is completed.

"No decision has been made yet, other than the crime lab being moved to the new facility. It's an interdepartmental matter, and the state police will have to decide on the future of the subpost when the Northville complex is finished," says Pursell.

But Pursell and police officials indicate the future of the subpost will have no effect on services provided. They say residents of Canton, Plymouth, and Northville will continue to receive full protection when the new facility becomes operational.

Psychic shows error is human

By SHERRY KAHAN

Russ Burgess kept his promise.

A week before the para-psychologist was to appear at the Schoolcraft cultural and public affair series, he mailed to the college a sealed letter in which he predicted what the headline in a Detroit daily newspaper would be on the day of his visit.

With great ceremony, the letter was opened during his Jan. 14 speech and psychic demonstration. Lo and behold, the headline read as he said it would, with only a few exceptions.

BUT HE GOOFED on one guess, which is one reason that Burgess strikes his audiences as being as little more human and down-to-earth than other psychics.

In the same letter he guessed that a member of the audience, when asked to name a card, would choose the well-known queen of spades. But a different card was chosen.

However, a number prediction in the same letter hit the mail on the head. Walking among the audience in the Waterman Campus Center, Burgess asked individuals to write down several numbers.

He gave the numbers to a member of the audience to total the number called out was "1481."

"Now look inside the envelope," said Burgess, who has an admitted fondness for the theatrical.

The answer was "1481."

"I THINK ESP exists as an art form," said Burgess. "It is a form of creativity. All possess it in different degrees. I devote my life to it. It's all I do. I'm completely attuned to it."

Yet Burgess wanted to level with his audience.

"In my demonstrations I employ the power of suggestion," he said, adding that he began his career as a hypnotist on the night club circuit.

"There are only two types of people who can't be influenced by the power of suggestion—idiots and morons."

He continued: "I will now reveal my second secret. I use only people I feel I can reach and ignore those I can't reach. I can get something significant from about 40 per cent of you. But the intensity of your concentration has nothing to do with ESP. The rapport and atmosphere have to be right."

BEGINNING his demonstration, Burgess covered his eyes with several materials—a bandage, two large cotton pads and several pieces of black cloth.

He asked members of the audience to send up written questions, which were placed in a box at his side. Blindfolded, he reached into the box for the pieces of paper, rejecting some, accepting others.

He turned and stretched both arms toward one side of the room.

"Who is F.O.?" he asked.

"Here," came an answer.

"Is Irene with you?"

"Yes."

"Hi, Irene."

Another time his arms swung toward the center.

"D.R.D. is trying to contact me," he said. "You have a nervous feeling in your stomach. Yes?"

"Yes."

"This nervousness has been going on for the past 10 minutes."

"Yes."

"Your name is Davis?"

"Yes."

"You are very concerned about something?"

"Yes."

"Something about your leg?"

"No."

"Something you are wearing?"

"Yes."

"I see strips of metal. Some form of brace. It has nothing to do with stomach pains."

"Yes."

"The brace is not permanent. I see a rapid recovery on a specific date. Your birthday, right?

"Right."

"ON THE SLIP of paper I sent up I asked if I would have my braces off by my birthday," explained Diané Davis after the show.

"When we first came in, Diane was very nervous about being here," said her mother, Mrs. Karen Davis, of Northville. "She mentioned the butterflies in her stomach. She was afraid that Burgess would notice us in some way.

"But I told her it would be too dark for him to see us. I can't believe it. I believe in psychic things, but this is wild. I can't get over it."

BURGESS said that he never sees initials or pictures before his eyes when he stands there blindfolded.

"I just verbalize it," he stated. "I don't know what is going to come out. I see nothing. As I talk it just comes."

He added: "You have to take logic and throw it out the window completely to get into ESP. When you get too logical you seem to loose the ability.

"The more emotional a person is, the easier he is to come across. It is not a matter of concentration. The biggest part of ESP is to become emotionally involved."

BURGESS noted his first awareness of his psychic powers occured when he served in the U.S. Navy in World War II. While working near a Navy blimp, he suddenly felt that the blimp was going to break away and told several of his superiors. He was right.

Once in Boston, he had such an overpowering feeling that a robbery was about to occur that he summoned a policeman. The officer not only caught the thief, but arrested Burgess as an accomplice.

The only time he resisted taking a plane trip, the plane he would have taken dropped 8,000 feet suddenly in mid-flight, killing one passenger.

RELAXING in the faculty lounge following his performance, Burgess threw out some predictions about the future.

"I think President Ford will be re-elected in 1976 and Ted Kennedy will be elected in 1980," he declared. "But I don't think Kennedy will be killed or die in office."

He sees the 1980s as years when things will go very well for the country.

Johnson services set Sunday

A memorial service will be held Sunday, Jan. 26 at Interlochen Arts Academy for Thor Johnson, conductor of the Nashville Symphony and artistic director of the arts academy, who died Jan. 16.

Dr. Johnson had long been associated with Interlochen. He served as guest conductor of the National High School Orchestra in 1942 at the National Music Camp. In 1964 he became director of the academy and conductor of the academy orchestra, a post he held for three years. The last two years of this service, he also was vice president of the academy. In 1973 he returned as artistic director and principal orchestra conductor.

He has served as musician director and conductor of the Nashville Symphony since 1967.

Dr. Johnson is survived by a sister, Mrs. Malcom Johns, a niece and nephew and two great nephews.

Funeral services were held in the Home Moravian Church at Winston-Salem, N.C. The family has requested that contributions may be made to memorial funds in lieu of flowers.

Sunday's Interlochen memorial service is at 4 p.m. in the Jessie V. Stone Building with the Rev. William W. DesAutels officiating.

County to hire jobless

Approximately one-half of the 150 persons hired by Wayne County under the federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) will be filling jobs in local communities. The rest are scheduled to have county jobs.

Current plans for a 50-50 ratio depend on how local communities previously have used CETA funds.

The 150 county jobless were ordered hired by Feb. 15, when the Wayne County Board of Commissioners Human Resources committee authorized immediate spending from $1.6-million received from the U.S. Department of Labor out of the potential $5.2-million total tentatively allocated.

Under the new provisions (Title VI) of the act, the county must demonstrate its ability to effectely use the initial $1.6 million before the remaining federal funds are released.

A similar test will be applied to local communities to determine if they have hired at a rate projected under earlier provisions. Those which have fulfilled their hiring projections may, but not necessarily will, receive more funds under Title VI to conduct their own hiring program. Those which have failed to hire will not be given additional cash under Title VI.

The communities which do not receive extra money will be served by positions established in local non-profit public service agencies, or in county departments or agencies located in these areas.

In the local communities, hiring will be conducted by each qualifying governmental body or each non-profit public service organization, and afterwards will be monitored and coordinated by the County Office of Manpower, which administers the county CETA program.

Detroit, Dearborn and Livonia are excluded from the grant because each has a population over 100,000 which qualifies for a direct federal allocation.

Individuals hired for positions with the county will be processed through the Manpower Offices' "Operation Mainstream" program.

ALL WRAPPED UP in their first aid work are Michele Zimmerman of Redford Township and Brenda Karakeian. (Staff Photo by Art Emanuel).

Safety first is SC class motto

By W.W. EDGAR

To help industry meet the terms of the Occupational Safety and Health Act that recently went into effect, Schoolcraft College is placing special emphasis on its first aid classes and extending an invitation to all employers to enroll their workers.

Under the new act one of every 10 employes must be certified in first aid, and each crew sent out on a job must have at least one certified person in the group to administer first aid.

The course at Schoolcraft is not new. It has been in vogue for some time. But with the new laws- both federal and state- more emphasis is being placed on the welfare of the worker and the course fills a great need.

As a two credit course it will be taught two days and one evening each week.

Under the direction of Dr. Marvin Gans, head of the Physical Education Department, and Fernon F. Feenstra, director of Technology, the course offersboth a physical education program, first aid instruction and a complete study of safety factors in all phases of industry.

While discussing the new act, Feenstra said that more attention is now being paid to the human beings in industry than ever before.

"They've even go far as to test the water available for drinking, the temperature of the working areas, the adequacy of the lighting equipment and sound levels.

"We now have come full cycle," Feenstra explained. "There was a time when humans were most important. Then we became more automated and machines were the thing. Now we're back to recognizing the importance of human beings."

He pointed out that the present course offers 32 hours of instruction, compared to the eight hours required by the American Red Cross, and it is not as costly ($23 resident tuition).

"It would be a lot less expensive for industry to send its employes here to be trained," Dr. Gans added. "It would cut the cost of travel, and our course is more thorough than having workers trained elsewhere."

The safety course takes the trainee right to the various machines to learn the dangers and the safeguards against injury, plus the use of "goggles" to make it as thorough as is possible.

History on the move

Largest-class-ever graduates from Lawrence Institute

By DR. WAYNE H. BUELL
President
Lawrence Institute of Technology

The year 1974 was another year of success for the Lawrence Institute of Technology as the college experienced an increase in enrollment, graduated its largest class, and progressed in various other areas.

Enrollment this fall was 4,206 men and women, an increase of 4.5 per cent over 1973. LIT continues to be the second largest private college in Michigan.

The class of 1974 with 514 graduates was a record for LIT. They attended day or evening college and earned degrees in five schools: the school of engineering, school of architecture, school of arts and science, school of business and industrial management, and the technical institute.

The day college operates Monday through Friday. Evening college classes are held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights. Technical institute classes are scheduled only on Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

In 1974 LIT added a bachelor of science degree program in business administration. Identical four-year BS programs available in day college are offered in the evening college, including the business administration program.

At night these are regularly scheduled and planned over six years. LIT is one of the few colleges in the U.S. which offers this opportunity. Practically all evening college students are employed on full day-time jobs.

LIT continued to operate in the black in 1974 with no debts other than the long-term financing of the Science Building. Careful management of resources and the use of facilities on a day-and-night basis contribute to this healthy financial base. Classes are in session every weekday from 8 a.m. - 11 p.m.

The college was fortunate this year in the election of five outstanding men to membership in the corporation and on the board of trustees.

New corporation members are: Charles E. Drury, president and chief executive officer, Hayes Albion Corp. and John R. Hamann, executive vice president, Detroit Edison Co.

NEW TRUSTEES are: Richard H. Cummings, executive vice president, National Bank of Detroit; John M. Harlan, president, Harlan Electric Co.; and Trevor O. Jones, director of the General Motors Proving Grounds at Milford.

There have been a number of significant academic developments.

The 1975-76 catalog published this fall shows the changes in the curricula of the school of engineering which resulted from a study begun in 1972. Industry advisors were consulted and attended meetings with Dean Stephen Davis and members of the engineering faculty to revise curricula in construction, electrical, and mechanical engineering. Total hours required for graduation were reduced from 210 to less than 200, which compares favorably with other colleges.

The school of architecture, accredited by the North Central Association along with all LIT schools, received additional accreditation by the National Architectural Accrediting Board this year. The school now has a fifth year program leading to the degree of bachelor of architecture in addition to the bachelor of science in architecture. In July of this year Karl H. Greimel was named dean of the school of architecture.

The school of industrial management this year was renamed the school of business and industrial management. Students now have the option to study for a BS in industrial management or a BS in business administration. Changes in course nomenclature have been made by Dean Leland Lahr so that course titles will better describe course content.

THE COMPUTER technology program in the technical institute has been renamed data processing and the curriculum reduced from seven to six evening terms. Studies in data processing will be concentrated in the area of business practice. The changes are expected to improve the graduate's preparation for employment, according to Dr. Richard E. Michel, dean.

TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH
BOARD OF TRUSTEES - REGULAR MEETING
JANUARY 14, 1975

The meeting was called to order by Supervisor McLaren at 8:00 P.M. All members were present.
READING, CORRECTING AND APPROVAL OF MINUTES - Mr. Ash moved approval of the minutes of the Regular Meeting of December 10, 1974 as submitted. Supported by Mr. Gornick and carried unanimously.
READING, CORRECTING AND APPROVAL OF BILLS - Mr. Millington moved that the invoice from Ann Arbor Cleaning Supply Company for cleaning supplies in the amount of $119.55 be rejected due to no purchase order and no money in the budget and that the bill be referred to the Supervisor for action at his discretion. Supported by Mrs. Richardson. Mrs. Richardson agreed that there was no purchase order and feels this item bears some investigation. The motion carried unanimously.
Mr. Gornick moved for payment of the bills in the total amount of $38,466.93, pending further information on the bill from Ann Arbor Cleaning Supply in the amount of $119.55. Supported by Mr. West and carried unanimously.
OLD BUSINESS - Cummins & Barnard, Inc. Re: Replacement of Fire Station No. 2. Mrs. Richardson moved that this phase of construction document for replacement of Fire Station No. 2 from Cummins & Barnard, Inc. be approved as presented. Supported by Mr. West and carried unanimously.
John W. Flodin, Township of Canton Clerk - Re: Sharing cost of street lighting for Joy Road I-275 Bridge. Mr. Ash moved that the proposal from Mr. John W. Flodin, Township of Canton Clerk for sharing cost of street lighting for Joy Road I-275 Bridge be rejected. Supported by Mr. Gornick and carried unanimously.
NEW BUSINESS - Doris Ritchie, Secretary, Township of Plymouth Planning Commission. Re: Action taken at their meeting of December 18, 1974 - Land Split, Application No. 276 William J. Lambert - S. W. corner Ann Arbor Road and McClumpha. Mr. Burke moved that the Board of Trustees concur in the recommendation of the Planning Commission and grant a land split, Application No. 276 - William J. Lambert - S. W. corner Ann Arbor Road and McClumpha. Supported by Mr. West and carried unanimously.
(b) Detroit Edison Company - Application No. 275 - Land Split - Property on Southside of Powell Road between Napier and Ridge Road. Mr. West moved that the Board of Trustees accept the land split, Application No. 275, Detroit Edison Company - Property on Southside of Powell Road between Napier and Ridge Road as recommended by the Planning Commission. Supported by Mr. Millington and carried unanimously.
(c) Plymouth Village East - Application No. 272 - Final Preliminary Plat - Plymouth Village East Subdivision located Northside of Ann Arbor Road between Eckles and I-275. Mr. Gornick moved approval of the Final Preliminary Plat - Plymouth Village East - Application No. 272 - Plymouth East Subdivision located Northside of Ann Arbor Road between Eckles and I-275 as recommended by the Planning Commission. Supported by Mrs. Richardson and carried unanimously.
Charles E. VanVleck, Secretary, Local 1496 - Re: Requesting Board of Trustees, pursuant to the Collective bargaining agreement and section 7-2 of the P.E.R.A. as amended, to reopen economic portions of the contract to negotiate improvements in each of the areas. Mr. Ash moved adoption of the Supervisor's recommendation to obtain the services of Keller, Thoma, McManus, Toppin & Schwarze to be represented by Mr. Dennis Dubay as Township negotiator with Mr. Gornick and Mr. Burke to serve as observers at the negotiations on the economic portion of the contract with Local No. 1496, Plymouth Township Professional Fire Fighters of the International Association of Fire Fighters. Supported by Mr. Millington and carried unanimously.
Web Kincade, D.P.W. Superintendent. Re: Requesting approval to have Brender-Hamill & Associates update Sewer Maps and have some available in the Treasurer's office to sell. Mr. Ash moved approval of the request of Mr. Web Kincade, D.P.W. Superintendent, to have Brender Hamill & Associates update all Township Utility Maps at the quoted cost of $625.00. Supported by Mr. Burke and carried unanimously.
American Cancer Society. Re: Requesting permission to collect funds in Township of Plymouth during the month of April, 1975. Mr. Burke moved that the American Cancer Society be granted permission to crusade and collect funds in the Township of Plymouth during the month of April, 1975. Supported by Mr. West and carried unanimously.
John D. McLaren, Supervisor - (a) Planning Commission-Appointment - Mrs. Richardson moved approval of the recommendation of Mr. McLaren that Mr. Thomas Sullivan, 8850 Brookline, Plymouth Township, be appointed to the Planning Commission, said term to expire in July, 1976. Supported by Mr. Millington and carried unanimously.
(b) Flood Insurance Program - Mr. Gornick felt the Township must go through the safeguard of applying for the flood insurance, however, a re-study of the designated area would also be needed. Mr. McLaren commented that the maps were hastily drawn and could be changed. Mr. Ash felt the Board should contact Representative Esch and inform him of the Board's feelings, as failure to apply could cause problems in the area of federal funding. Mrs. Richardson suggested calling the Federal Flood Insurance Administration for more information. Mr. Gornick moved that this item be tabled for up to 90 days, pending the outcome of inquiries. Supported by Mr. West and carried unanimously.
(c) Authorization for Dietrich Associates to proceed with the Preliminary Township Recreation Plan pertaining to the Land and Water Conservation Fund Application to D.N.R. Mr. Burke moved to authorize Dietrick Associates to proceed with the Preliminary Township Recreation Plan pertaining to the Land and Water Conservation Fund application to D.N.R. Supported by Mr. Gornick and carried unanimously.
Web Kincade, D.P.W. Superintendent - Re: Proposed Ridgewood Sanitary Sewer. Mrs. Richardson stated that in July, 1973, there were 9 Affirmative, 17 Negative and 7 No Responses and at this point, as per Mr. Kincade's letter there are 7 Affirmative, 15 Negative and 3 No Responses which shows the affirmatives as going down as some residents are installing new septic tank fields. She further stated that she did not feel the Township should spend $66,000 for a sanitary sewer with only ⅓ of the residents interested in hooking up to the sewer. Mr. Gornick moved that the sanitary sewer along Ridgewood not be installed at this time. Supported by Mrs. Richardson and carried unanimously.
Helen Richardson, Clerk - Re: Transfer of Funds - Mr. Millington moved approval for transfer of funds as requested by Mrs. Richardson with the elimination of Item I - Fire Department - From: Account 101-340-721 Longevity $135.00 to Account 101-340-777 Custodial Supplies $135.00 (Increased cost for supplies)as previously discussed under BILLS. Supported by Mr. Ash. The motion carried unanimously.
James E. Gignac, Fire Chief, Re: Requesting Board's approval to attend the Apparatus Supervisor's Seminar, University of Michigan, to be held on February 4, 5, and 6, 1975.
(b) Requesting Board's Approval to attend the Fire Instructor's Conference, University of Michigan, to be held on February 12 and 13, 1975. Mrs. Richardson moved that the Supervisor be authorized to meet with Mr. Gignac, review the request and to make whatever decisions are necessary regarding the requests for attendance to the Seminar and Conference. Supported by Mr. Millington and carried unanimously.
Mr. Ash moved to adjourn the meeting. Supported by Mr. Gornick and carried unanimously.
Supervisor McLaren adjourned the meeting at 9:45 p.m.

Approved,
J. D. McLAREN

Respectfully submitted,
HELEN RICHARDSON, Clerk

BREVITIES TIPS

Notices to Brevities should include: the date, the time, where, and who to contact. Phone numbers will not be published, but addresses will be used. Any other pertinent information such as guest speakers, topics of discussion, or the reason for meetings should also be included. Please send this information 10 days in advance of the desired publication date. All information should be typed or printed.

ORIENTATION SESSIONS

Jan. 20 and 27—Two orientation sessions for students who will be ninth graders next year (and their parents) have been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in Centennial Educational Park. Information on programs for incoming ninth graders will be discussed followed by a tour of the building and a question-answer period. The Jan. 20 session will be held in the Canton Building and is primarily for students who attend Central and East Middle schools. The Jan. 27 meeting will be in Salem for students who attend Pioneer and West Middle Schools.

PRESSURE COOKER CLINIC

Jan. 24, 25—Presto industries will hold "a pressure cooker clinic" at Meijer Thrifty Acres from noon to 9 p.m. on Friday and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday. Demonstrations will be given on Friday at noon, 3, 5, and 7 p.m. Repair work on old pressure cookers will be available.

TAX HELP

Jan. 24—Canton Township senior citizens and disabled veterans can again take advantage of the tax help program. On Friday there will be two volunteers available from 1-3 p.m. to help solve tax problems. Senior citizens should pick up their social security statements before going to the tax help clinic. This can be done by calling the social security office in Dearborn. The clinic will be held at the township offices at 44508 Geddes Road.

CHAMBER DANCE AND DINNER

Jan. 25—The Canton Chamber of Commerce will be holding a "Get Acquainted Dinner Dance" at the Hawthorne Valley Country Club, 31002 Warren Road in Westland. Tickets will be $10 per person for the affair, and live entertainment as well as food will highlight the dance. Chamber officers urge those interested to reserve tickets as early as possible.

HOCKEY BENEFIT

Jan. 25—The Plymouth Hockey Association benefit game will feature the Dearborn Italian Bakery playing the Ecorse Senior Men at the Plymouth Cultural Center, 525 Farmer Street. The game will begin at 8 p.m. and admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 16.

SKI BIRDS

Jan. 27—The Plymouth Ski Birds are holding regular meetings the second and fourth Mondays of every month. The meetings start at 8 p.m. at the Plymouth Cultural Center on Farmer Street. Films will be shown and refreshments will be served. Dues are $7 a single and $10 a couple. Three trips have been scheduled. There will be a trip to Blue Mountain in Collingwood Ontario Feb. 14-16. The week of Feb. 8 there will be a trip to Mt. St. Anne in Quebec, and early in March there will be a trip to Banff in the Banff in the Canadian Rockies.

EAST MIDDLE SCHOOL

Jan. 27-31—East Middle School parents are invited to attend class and lunch with their children during the week of Jan. 27-31. Parents can attend classes with children as well as lunch any day during the week.

ALCOHOL AWARENESS

Jan. 28—The second session of the alcohol awareness program sponsored by the 35th District Court and the Northville Jaycees will begin at 8 p.m. in the 35th District Court on the second floor of Plymouth City Hall, 201 S. Main. Dr. Frank Hollingsworth, PhD will speak on "progression of alcohol."

CROCHETING, KNITTING, AND YOGA

Jan. 29 —There is still time to join the crocheting, knitting, and yoga classes being offered by the Department of Parks and Recreation at the Cultural Center, 525 Farmer Street. The classes will start on Jan. 29 and continue for eight weeks from 1-2:30 p.m. on Tuesdays.

"TOP OF THE CAN"

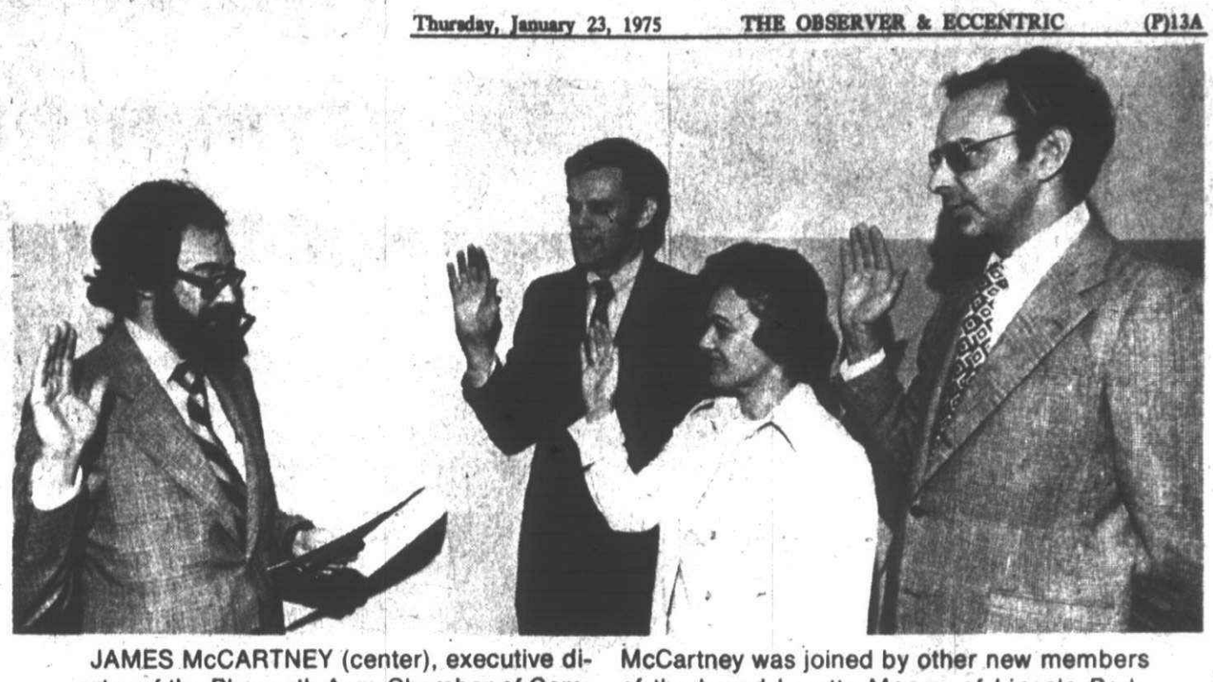

Jan. 30—"Top of the Can" is a television show scheduled to appear on Channel 9 at 9:30 p.m. It is a show about a police officer who is corrupt. It will be one hour long without commercial interruption because of financial support from the Plymouth Church of Christ.

FOLK DANCE CLUB

Jan. 30—Persons interested in a Folk Dance Club sponsored by the Plymouth Department of Parks and Recreation are invited to an organizational meeting at 8 p.m. at the Cultural Center, 525 Farmer Street.

Plymouth UMC puts spotlight on hymn-singing

Special emphasis on hymns—new and old—will be part of the worship in the First United Methodist Church of Plymouth, North Territorial west of Sheldon, during the next few weeks.

New hymns set to familiar tunes and special treatment of familiar favorites are included.

On Sunday, Jan 26, during both the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services, the congregation will sing "The City is Alive, O God," a hymn written by W.W. Reid and set to the Welsh tune "Llanglofan."

Last Sunday the hymn introduced was a new year work written by Ernest K. Emurian, a United Methodist minister, to the tune of "National Hymn."

Planned for Sunday, Feb. 2, is special treatment of the spiritual "Go Tell It on the Mountain."

While the choir sings the verses of the hymn and the congregation joins in the chorus, the church's interpretive dance choir will give expression to the words with mood and movement.

"CONGREGATIONAL singing of hymns is an important bart of every worship service in almost every church," said the Rev. Paul M. Cargo, senior minister.

"The lift of the spirit that comes through singing with others in a worshipping congregation can scarcely be measured.

"Every church has a rich treasury of hymns, Next to the Bible, the hymn book is the best resource of the Christian religion."

Rev. Cargo, who studied hymnology at Boston University under Dr. James Houghton, said he likes to use in services at Plymouth UMC a wide range of hymns from the majestic to the gospel and from the very old to the contemporary.

"One interesting means of celebration through hymns," he added, "has been the juxtaposition of two hymns, or dove-tailing."

He said he tried having the congregation sing alternating stanzas of two hymns with different styles, such as "The Lord Jehovah Reigns" and "All Things Bright and Beautiful" as well as "Love Divine, All Loves Excelling" and "Love Came Down at Christmas."

REV. CARGO pointed out that many of the 3,000 hymns composed by Charles Wesley, brother of Methodism founder John Wesley, are found in hymnbooks used by all denominations.

He also said he had shared with his congregation some advice about hymn-singing left by John Wesley from writings in 1791.

It reads:

"Sing all. Let not a slight degree of weakness or weariness hinder you.

"Sing lustily, and with good courage. Beware of singing as if you were half dead, or half asleep, but lift up your voice with strength.

"Sing modestly. Do not bawl. Sing in time, take care not to sing too slow. This drawling naturally steals on all who are lazy.

"Above all, sing spiritually. Attend strictly to the sense of what you sing, and see that your heart is not carried away with the sound, but offered to God continually."

THE REV. PAUL CARGO looks over some writings of John Wesley and an old hymn book. (Staff photo by Bob Woodring)

Church Bulletin

CENTRAL BAPTIST TEMPLE, 670 Church Street, Plymouth, will host Dr. Jim Vineyard, director of the world's largest bus ministry, in two talks Tuesday, Jan. 28.

Rev. Vineyard will report at 3 and 7 p.m. on the ministry that involves directing 200 buses carrying an average of 7,000 worshipers each week to services in the First Baptist Church of Hammond, Ind.

The visiting pastor, now serving as associate pastor in the Hammond church, earlier was an associate pastor for Landmark Baptist Temple in Indiana.

CHRISTIAN COMMUNITY CHURCH of Livonia will hear of mission work in South Africa from the Rev. Eugene Grams, Assemblies of God missionary, in services Sunday, Jan. 26 at 7 p.m.

The church currently meets in Holmes Junior High School, 16200 Newburgh.

Rev. Grams and his wife, Phyllis, have been active in missionary work for 22 years, and in their recent term in South Africa they helped establish new congregations and further the work of Bible schools.

A color film portraying revival and life in South Africa will be part of the missionary presentation.

Ward church sets mission weekend

A weekend of mission emphasis, "Ward's Worldwide Witness," is planned by Ward United Presbyterian Church, 17000 Farmington Road, Livonia, from Jan. 24 to 26.

An all-nations' banquet, missionary displays, a children's rally and a youth night, and special speakers for Sunday worship will be included in the program.

Eleven missionaries, whose work has taken them to many parts of the world, will participate.

ORIENTAL FOOD and decorations will be featured in the banquet scheduled to open the weekend on Friday, Jan. 24 at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are $3 and must be reserved by calling the church office.

Several missionaries will be present and will tell informally about their most interesting experiences.

Those attending the banquet are invited to wear costumes of other nations. The church's Women's Association for Missions is arranging special displays.

Children in grades one through six will gather at the church Saturday, Jan. 25 from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. for a rally and luncheon.

Gene Purdy, a missionary to Pakistan, will tell about the customs and living conditions of boys and girls in that country. All children in the area are invited. Make reservations with Mrs. Harold Adams, 32430 Lyndon, Livonia.

YOUTH NIGHT PLANS involve a gathering Saturday at 7:30 p.m. for high school and college students and other young adults.

Tom Dennert, representing the international ministries of Campus Crusade for Christ International, will show a film titled "God for All Men."

The multi-media production combines stereo sound, a custom-built portable screen, six slide projectors, color slides, a quad tape sound system and an electronic computor decoder.

After the showing there will be an informal time for food and fellowship and a chance for rapping with the visiting missionaries.

THREE GUESTS will be in the pulpit for Sunday worship services.

Glenn Crumley, speaking on the Berean Mission in Africa, will talk at 9:30 a.m., and Robert Malcolm of the United Presbyterian mission in the Philippines is the 11 a.m. speaker. At 7 p.m., the vesper hour will feature talks by Elsie McClymonds, missionary from the United Presbyterian Church in Ethopia, and Malcolm.

Other missionaries participating will be Judy Canfield, representing Unevangelized Field Mission in Brazil, the Rev. and Mrs. Clarke Burkhalter of Israel's Remnant, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Gradin, former missionaries to Vietnam now associated with Missionary Internship, Inc., in Farmington, and Peggy Wiedimir of the Nurses Christian Fellowship.

St. Richard panel is ecumenical

Three clergymen will participate in an ecumenical panel discussion scheduled Thursday, Jan. 30 at 8 p.m. by St. Richard Catholic Church, 35637 Cherry Hill, Westland.

The panel is planned, said the Rev. John O'Callaghan, co-pastor of St. Richard, "to promote better understanding and fellowship among Christians in the ecumenical spirit of the Christian Unity observance."

Participating with Fr. O'Callaghan will be the Rev. Loren Scribner, pastor of Kirk of the Savior Presbyterian Church of Westland, and the Rev. Ron VanderWerff, pastor of Church of the Savior Reformed Church of Livonia.

Dr. Waltke will visit Covenant

Dr. Bruce K. Waltke, professor of sementics and Old Testament at Dallas Theological Seminary in Texas, will be speaker for a weekend Bible conference Jan. 24 to 26 in Covenant Community Church, 25800 Student, Redford Township.

The weekend schedule will begin with a 7:30 p.m. service on Friday, when Dr. Waltke will speak on "The Creation of Woman," basing his talk on the account in the book of Genesis, second chapter.

That session will be followed by a get-acquainted coffee hour.

Two services are planned Saturday.

At 10 a.m., Dr. Waltke will discuss "The Fall of Man" using as his text the third chapter of Genesis. The service Saturday at 7:30 p.m. will center around a discussion of the book of Ecclesiastes, with the professor using the topic "The Futility of Living."

On Sunday, the final day of the conference, three talks by Dr. Waltke are scheduled.

An illustrated lecture on "Bible Archeology" is planned for the church's 9:45 a.m. service, and at 11 a.m. he will speak on Isiah 53, considered one of the great chapters of the Old Testament. The topic will be "The Value of Jesus."

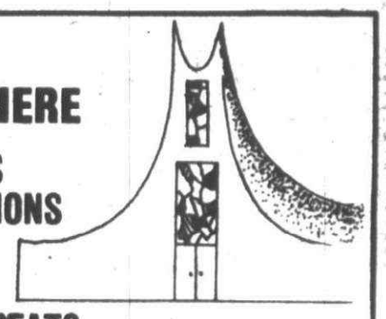

The concluding service, at 7 p.m. Sunday, will feature a talk on "The Ten Commandments," with the text found in Exodus, chapter 20.

All services are open to the public.

Local control of schools is lost if teachers win regional bargaining

Observation Point

by PHILIP H. POWER

On Tuesday I received a letter from a South Redford teacher who lives in Oakland County commenting on the Crestwood teacher hassle. One part of the letter caught my eye: "It is true that last spring a vote (in the South Redford teacher union) was taken in support of 'coordinated bargaining'."

There is evidence, not limited to the letter I received, that one of the goals of the teachers union is the ability to bargain collectively with a clump of school boards to determine wages and working conditions for schools in a given region, say western Wayne County.

What's coordinated bargaining?

It's one of the big issues at the heart of the current conflict over teacher unions, and it affects very directly the ancient tradition of local control of the public schools.

SUCH COORDINATED bargaining would be useful to teachers for exactly the same reasons the Crestwood school board was able (for a very limited time) to fire striking teachers in the district. In a recession with shrinking school enrollments and lots of teachers out of work, the Crestwood board was able to replace on short notice the 180 teachers it fired.

But if coordinated bargaining existed for western Wayne County, school boards would have no hope at all of replacing the thousands of teachers affected.

ALMOST SURELY the State Legislature will be considering such coordinated regional bargaining — or even statewide bargaining — as it fumbles its way to a solution of the Crestwood situation.

If it opts for broader bargaining units, the Legislature very probably will have signalled the death of local control of schools.

The history of local control stems from the idea that different kinds of communities will find different curricula and funding levels appropriate to meet differing local needs. A rural, farm-oriented community might want the schools to teach some farming subjects, while a suburban community in this area might want to give stress to some vocational subjects such as auto shop.

Some communities might want to tax themselves extensively to support an enriched education program, while others might not; either way, this decision would be put to the local voters in the form of millage propositions.

IT SEEMS CLEAR that if bargaining with teachers is put on a regional basis rather than by individual districts, the decisions involving the level of support required will be out of the hands of the local voters. And since the power of the purse is the power which validates local control, regional or statewide bargaining will end this tradition.

That might be not all bad. Local control has resulted in many inequities: to the students through educations of widely varying quality; to the taxpayers through tax levels of widely varying amounts. The state has already moved to try to equalize school expenditures between districts, but clearly more progress is needed in that direction.

When all is said and done, local control of the schools will be eroded if regional or statewide bargaining with teachers is adopted. People may have differing views about the importance of local control, and if you feel strongly about it the time is now to write your state legislators.

Don't say you weren't warned.

CRESTWOOD HIGH students Monday protested the returning teachers' victory in the courts. A hidden issue in the strike has been local control vs. regional or statewide bargaining. (Staff photo)

Congressional seniority reform? Long way off

Tim Richard writes

Let's hear a quarter of a round of applause for the 75 new faces in Congress, as well as some of the maturing faces of liberal persuasion, for the overthrow of two crusty committee chairmen in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Young Bill Brodhead of the 17th District and six-termer Bill Ford of the 15th voted with the insurgents in the House Democratic caucus to dump F. Edward Hebert, 73, of Louisiana as chairman of the House Armed Services Committee and W.R. Poage, 75, of Texas as Agriculture chairman.

It's much too early to say the tradition-encrusted seniority system has been "reformed," although much credit must be extended Brodhead and Ford for their votes. But there are a lot of other reforms that need to be made, and as witnesses I call Reps. Don Riegle (D-Flint) and the 2nd District's own Marv Esch (R-Ann Arbor).

CRUX OF THE MATTER is that seniority—the practice of making the congressman with the longest service chairman of a committee— is only one facet of the "seniority system."

What's bad about the seniority system is not so much the seniority part but the fact that chairmen have a lot of power which they can—and do— abuse with a heavy hand.

Riegle, in his highly instructive book "O Congress," tells of the problems faced by a junior member of the minority party (he was then a Republican) in questioning a member of the administration, in this case Secretary of State Rogers. In a session of the foreign operations subcommittee, Riegle tells how Chairman Otto Passman used the rules "to effectively squelch any penetrating cross- examination of the secretary.

"Under these rules, each member has just five minutes to question a witness. Then the chairman can cross-examine for as long as he wants. When the chairman is finished—if any time remains—the other subcommittee members can vie for it, according to seniority. Once the five minute periods were exhausted, Otto used all the remaining time."

Riegle recalls that Rogers "smiled and hemmed and hawed and offered only vague and indirect responses" to Riegle's questions. At the end of the all-too-brief session, "Rogers knew my time was up and that I'd have no further chance to cross-examine him this year."

Now if this abuse of a chairman's power has been corrected, I haven't heard about it, and it's too soon to say the seniority system has been "reformed."

ESCH POINTED OUT in an interview last week that the revolt against the old-time chairmen occurred in the House Democratic caucus. Thus, committee chairmen of the entire House are answerable to the party caucus.

It would be better, says Esch, to have the entire committee elect a chairman, making the chairman responsive to the committee. I think Esch is right.

Esch also called the caucus procedure "unwieldy. They have to reject the present chairman, then vote on the next highest man in seniority until one person gets a majority," he said. Standard procedure in a parliamentary setting is to pick a chairman from random nominations. Esch said a compromise method might be to pick a chairman from the three senior members of a committee.

A SORE POINT in Congress or any legislature is the amount of staff the minority party gets.

At present, Democrats have roughly a 2-1 majority in the House, but that isn't the way money for staff is allocated in committees, Esch says. "Last year they were going to give us (Republicans) one-third of the staffing, but now we don't know if we'll get it."

In Washington, knowledge is power, and if you have ample staff for information gathering and investigations, you can wield an appropriate amount of power. If, however, your party has one-third the votes but only one-quarter or one-eighth the staff that the majority party has, you're getting shafted.

Democrats are doing it to Republicans now, and Republicans have done it to Democrats in the past, so neither party is pure. Yet it would be a genuine reform to see committee staffing arranged in proportion to the way the American people voted.

Let us, then, award a rousing quarter-round of applause to the young liberals in the House for what they've done so far, but let's not give them credit yet for total reform of the seniority system and committee methods.

Service clubs could bring prosperity

By ELINOR GRAHAM

Rotarians are doing their bit to ease the recession with their every-club-member-buy-a-new-car effort, but what are the plans of the other service clubs?

There are many projects which could give the economy a real boost if members would just bear down and see them through.

For instance:

EVERY KIWANIAN could marry off a daughter. Nothing keeps the dollars flowing like a good, old-fashioned wedding.

Involve as many persons as possible. Don't overlook the mailman (or woman), dentist, doctor, favorite check-out clerk at the supermarket. Invite all the neighbors, friends and relatives.

The gifts, food, stationery, flowers, new dresses and housing and home furnishings for the couple would benefit large and small business.

Daughterless Kiwanians would not be immune. They would be honor-bound to sponsor a niece, sister or unmarried aunt on the road to happiness.

It might be wise to choose a bridegroom whose father is an Elk, or an Elk, himself. Elks are famous partiers. They could be counted on to pitch in with their shares of pre-wedding festivities.

LIONS CLUB members could initiate the adopt-a-student program.

The Lions would find their adoptive students at MESC offices. The adoptee would have to be drawing unemployment benefits, be bright, bored and willing. The thrust of the effort would be to advance the student's education one semester beyond the point where his formal education left off.

Should a Lion tap a prospect on the shoulder and discover a PhD, fine; enlist him as a teacher in the program. With declining student enrollment in some areas, there are empty classrooms available.

The sponsor would be responsible for school lunches, gasoline mileage to and from class, textbooks, notebooks and, of course, a pocket calculator (American made). He would not be held morally, financially or legally responsible for any out-of-class activities.

This plan would require some groundwork before it could be put into effect, but the Lions could handle it.

With all the glumness around, the Optimists could come into their own. They could live up to their name — spread optimism. A cheery pat on the back, an extra tip for the waitress, a new microwave oven for the wife would boost spirits and the economy.

UNEMPLOYED TEACHERS and empty classrooms (caused by fewer schoolage children) are problems which could be solved by the Jaycees and Jaycettes. Age limit in this community-minded organization lays it squarely in its lap. Just one more child per Jaycee family would do much toward filling those empty classrooms, up state aid and employ more teachers.

With the global food situation, it would probably be preferable if they adopted a child, but the whole thing would need some regulation. Canton and Plymouth Jaycees would not share in the program. Livonia and Redford Township Jaycees would not be permitted to move within the Plymouth School District until "the situation warrants."

Pediatricians, baby food and clothing industries as well as the building trades would benefit from the Jaycee drive.

For those exempt from the plan, there are other aids to prosperity. The "Put Your Mother-in-law on a Plane for Somewhere" is touted by the faltering airlines.

The possibilities are endless. If the Oddfellows, Soroptimists, Rebekahs, Civitans and the Moose Lodge joined the fight too, we'd soon have this recession licked.

Forgetting 55 speed limit?

R. T. Thompson writes

Those motorists who have been speeding along the expressways a bit faster than thr 55 miles per hour allowed in Michigan had better take heed of the warning of the Michigan State Police. Seems like the troopers are going to crack down and make sure we all know of the speed limit.

This information came out of the Lansing headquarters a few days ago when it was revealed the State Police plan to put plain looking cars on the road to halt some of those who now feel they can become terrors of the road again.

It isn't that we feel this is unfair—far from it, since we see cars speeding along Schoolcr aft in the early evening and around midnight when the shifts of the plants in Livonia, Plymouth and Redford change.

Some of those speedsters should be flagged down, and some should be grounded for a period of time. Judging from the way some drivers speed on Schoolcraft, weaving in and out, roaring past everyone in line, one would have to have the idea they are trying to make it to the neighborhood bar before closing time.

That probably is the reason, but that isn't any reason for them to be allowed to speed along at around 65 to 70 miles per hour while most others are staying well within the 55 mile limit.

Just a word to the wise. We know the State Police are on the lookout, not with the familiar deep blue cars but with unmarked green ones that carry only the shield of the State Police. There isn't any block of lights on the top but I'm sure they are equipped with sirens that will stop a speedster on a dime and still leave some change.

Remember the speed limit in Michigan, like that in most states, is 55 miles per hour, not 70. Also remember the State Police are on the lookout and they sure have sharp eyes.

Eccentricities

by HANK HOGAN

Passing on right should be illegal

Have you ever been driving along the expressway and come upon a car traveling in the left lane at about 40 miles an hour?

You don't know whether to try and pass him on the right and gamble that he won't decide at that time to cross over to the right or toot your horn and hope he will pull over.

You don't even have to get on the expressway to have the experience. Try Woodward Avenue or Telegraph any day of the week.

Many states make it illegal to pass on the right.

MICHIGAN DOES not happen to impose this rule on a four-lane highway.

In our state you can legally travel in the fast or left lane as long as you are traveling the minimum speed limit.

The states that have a no-passing-on-right law have good reason to have it on their books.

Cars with right-hand drive (steering wheel on the left) have a blind spot in the right-rear corner and cars passing on the right are invisible to the overtaken driver for a short period of time. Unfortunately, this short period of time could be the difference between safety and an accident.

THIS IS NOT a problem with cars passing on the left because Michigan law requires you to have an outside mirror which eliminates the blind spot on the left.

Secondly, in defensive driving, you have to anticipate what the driver in front of you is going to do, and if he is driving in the left lane he might be going to turn left or pull back into the right-hand lane.

Either decision could lead to an accident, if the guy behind guesses wrong.

Thirdly, if slow traffic is allowed to travel in the left or fast lane, then drivers are almost forced to cut in and out if they wish to maintain the speed limit.

THE ADVANTAGES of a state law requiring slow traffic to travel in the right lane and passing only in the left lane has so much to recommend itself that it is unbelievable that the Great Lakes State hasn't done anything about it.

Dog's owner is responsible

Editor:

Regarding Jill Perkey's letter of Jan. 16: True, the Humane Society should have told her they were overcrowded and the dog would have to be put down. But the rest of the blame goes to Mrs. Perkey, not the Humane Society!

Did she give a donation to help support the society—or did she just drop off her dog? The Humane Society knows cute puppies and kittens have a better chance of finding a home than an older animal, but I would guess that less than half ever do.

If her dog was unapproachable (at home) but 200 people wanted it, she should have taken it to neutral ground for people to see. It was her responsibility to find it a home, not the Humane Society's.

The honest thing to do would have been to accept the responsibility of having the dog put down herself if she couldn't place it in a satisfactory home. By taking it to the Humane Society, her conscience is eased, thinking she is doing what is best for the dog. But it is her responsibility.

Is it kinder to have the dog go through who-knows-what kind of life and treatment, creating how-many-equally-uncared-for pups, or have her peacefully put to sleep, her suffering in this life over?

No, I'm not an animal hater, but the only animals I've taken to the Humane Society are strays. After spending much of my own money to alter, vaccinate and find homes for strays—with depressing results—I have finally given up. After checking the lost and found ads, I take them to the Humane Society, where I know if they are not claimed they will be humanely put down.

The dog's welfare is the responsibility of the owner, not of the Humane Society. Have the courage to take care of your own problems and not push them off on someone else "for the good of the dog."

A contract protects all

Editor:

I am a parent, a taxpayer and a teacher.

I suppose the latter disqualifies me from the "respect" and "prestige" race since I have read numerous editorials and letters recently that describe teachers as criminals. Frankly, I feel quite disgusted about the barrage of anti-teacher sentiment because it is not merited.

I want to remind people it is a negotiated contract that determines workable class sizes, insures that adequate teaching materials are available, provides a grievance procedure to rectify conditions not conducive to good education, states the qualifications and certification of personnel hired to teach, and explains the conditions under which they may be released.

It is also a negotiated contract that provides for adequate compensation that would attract good personnel into the school system. Without a contract, all of the above are determined arbitrarily by the school boards who, in many cases, are not educators and possess a limited knowledge of how children learn or what and how teachers teach.

Clearly, it was the lack of a contract that caused the teachers in Crestwood to strike. Since 1966 they have gone back to work five times without a contract. Is this selfish or criminal?

Their board used court injunctions several times instead of negotiations to get the teachers back to work. The teachers have no legal right to strike, but the law says that teachers have the right to bargain collectively. Now you tell me what the teachers can do to encourage fair bargaining if all the board needs to do is run to the courts and get an injunction if a settlement can't be reached. School boards can be sued for unfair labor practices, but what is the penalty if they are found guilty? None.

Teachers should obey the law, but the law that they obey should not present an unfair advantage at the bargaining table. State lawmakers must act— and act soon—to alter the present law, not enact one to give teachers the right to strike but to offer one that will allow the bargaining clout of each side to be equal.

To me this means that the final step in settling a contract dispute must be binding arbitration. True, it's not total collective bargaining, but it's better than strikes, injunctions and mass firings.

GERALD J. RADUS, Livonia

Strike called 'demonstration'

Editor:

If a strike becomes a reality, it is not a strike against the Plymouth School District, but a demonstration against the unfair labor tactics of the Crestwood Board of Education against all teachers.

The Plymouth Education Association abhors the sensational emotionalism being perpetrated in the press. This can only serve to further inflame and incense, rather than bring insight and understanding.

The strike is not to get Crestwood a contract, but to guarantee the right of public employes to bargain without fear of being fired for their attempts to negotiate a contract.

If the Crestwood board can successfully discharge its 190 teachers, our right to bargain is completely devastated.

Many district residents are labor-affiliated and can understand our position. The four southeastern UAW regions in this area have sent a telegram to the governor, stating not only their support, but also their wish that oe intercede immediately.

We cannot allow our colleagues to be professionally and economically assassinated for exercising their right to collectively bargain.

If this firing can happen in Crestwood, it can occur in any district in Michigan.

All local education association leaderships are aware of the sensitivity of the judicial process. We in no way wish to jeopardize a decision that may resolve the situation in Crestwood.

For these reasons, a date for the support strike was not set at the last leadership meeting of the coordinated districts.

While still committed, the Plymouth teachers, as well as teachers across this state, anxiously await a decision from the appellate court.

Plymouth Education Association

Union won't vote in SR

Editor:

Philip Power's editorial of Jan. 16 mentioned that the teachers' union of South Redford had decided to support the Crestwood District teachers by a sympathy strike. The union officials of that organization have not as yet permitted a vote to be taken as to how many teachers would stay out and how many would report for work in case such a strike were called.

It is true that last spring a vote was taken in support of "coordinated bargaining," but since that time for various reasons there are teachers in South Redford who have changed their minds.

Obviously, the union officials don't want the public to know this. It might give the impression the MEA does not have all the teacher support it claims.

I agree that the student—who is the reason for our teaching—is lost in the struggle.

I'm sorry to say it is not safe for me to sign my name.

Good organization key, IRS director advises

April 15, the federal income tax filing deadline may be a day of frenzied activity or just another day.

The significance of the 15th depends on how organized taxpayers are, according to R.L. Plate, district director of Internal Revenue for Michigan.

"April 15 doesn't have to be a hectic day in any household," Plate said, "especially when you consider that most of the time spent preparing an income tax return involves locating essential records. The actual completion of the form takes relatively little time."

AS AN important starting point, Plate suggests the taxpayer begin now to gather records and lists deductions.

"Begin with January and move forward toward the end of the year. Tally up such items as charitable contributions, medical expenses, taxes and interest payments. The advantage of starting this process now is that it allows enough time to write or call for missing receipts or records.

"Another advantage of beginning now is that it helps the taxpayer to determine the size of the refund he can expect."

ANOTHER IMPORTANT reason for getting an early start, according to Plate, "is that the sooner a return is filed, the earlier the taxpayer will receive his or her refund."

Plate also advised taxpayers to begin the process well ahead to avoid making mistakes and omitting possible deductions.

"Faced with a deadline at the last minute, many people are apt to forget the day the wife used the station wagon to take a troop of scouts a hundred miles on a camping trip. In such a case, actual charitable auto expenses are tax deductible, or a standard amount of seven cents a mile, to cover the cost of gasoline and oil, can be deducted."

According to Plate, the sofa a taxpayer donated to a church rummage sale or electrical appliances given to the local emergency relief fund last summer are apt to be long forgotten, although these items can be claimed as tax deductions at the fair market value.

ASSUMING Plate has convinced you to get started now with your taxes, how do you proceed? These are the steps he recommends:

First, get out a copy of your last year's return to make sure that no recurring deductions are being overlooked.

Next, go through the canceled checks, picking out those which substantiate medical expenses, charitable contributions, interest payments, mortgage costs, etc.

Then, put on your thinking cap and see if you have missed any legitimate deductions to which you might be entitled. As part of your medical expenses, for example, you can include the cost of transportation to and from a doctor's office, by either private vehicle, subway, bus or taxi.

Some taxpayers may not be sure just how many times they visited a doctor, a dentist, a clinic. Now is a good time to call up their offices and check.

Also, many late, hurried filers often overlook such deductible items as eyeglasses and batteries for hearing aids.

As a matter of fact, if you are paying off a large medical bill in installments, consider making a large payment in Decmeber if it will push your medical expenses to more than three per cent of adjusted gross income. In some instances, it might pay to borrow the money.

ASIDE FROM medical expenses, there are many other deductions commonly overlooked by the hurried taxpayer. For example, if you take a job-related college course after work, you can deduct cost of travel from your job to the classroom.

When used to store income-producing property (stocks, bonds, etc.), rent on a safe-deposit box may be deductible. Legal expenses that are a necessary factor in producing taxable income are normally deductable. So, too, are union dues and dues to professional societies.

"The list could really go on and on," says Plate. "Employment agency fees to secure employment, certain child care expenses, unreimbursed travel and transportation, certain appraisal fees, subscriptions to professional journals, even the cost of having someone assist you in preparing your tax return."

Aside form deductions, there are other important items to keep in mind. For instance, make sure that you have a social security number to enter on your return—and one for your wife on a joint return.

And if there's been a name change, your local Social Security Administration office should be notified. Also, if you have extra income—from a sideline job, for example—find out if you should pay self-employment taxes.

APRIL 15, 1975. A day so far and yet so near.

For the wise taxpayer who gets started early, it's just another day—in fact he'll probably have his refund by then. For the anguished taxpayer, a day of chaos and, unfortunately for many, a day of possible overlooked deductions.

"In a nutshell, then, an early start on your taxes can save you dollars. And, by the way, now is as good a time as any to set up a record-keeping system for next year."

IRS offers to work with service groups

Organizations on the lookout for an ideal public service activity might well consider teaming up with an unusual and, perhaps, unlikely partner—the Internal Revenue Service.

For the sixth consecutive year, the IRS is conducting a Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program. People helping people with their tax returns is basically what the VITA program is all about.

Many low-income taxpayers have very simple returns to prepare and cannot afford to pay for professional assistance. This is where public service organizations and VITA come into use.

IF AN ORGANIZATION can enlist members willing to help taxpayers complete their tax returns fully and accurately, the IRS will train these helpers or assistors, as they are called in the VITA program, in basic income tax procedures without charge.

Volunteers need not have tax backgrounds. With a basic understanding of arithmetic, they can easily master the VITA course. In scheduling the VITA training sessions, arrangements are left to the discretion of the local group or organization.

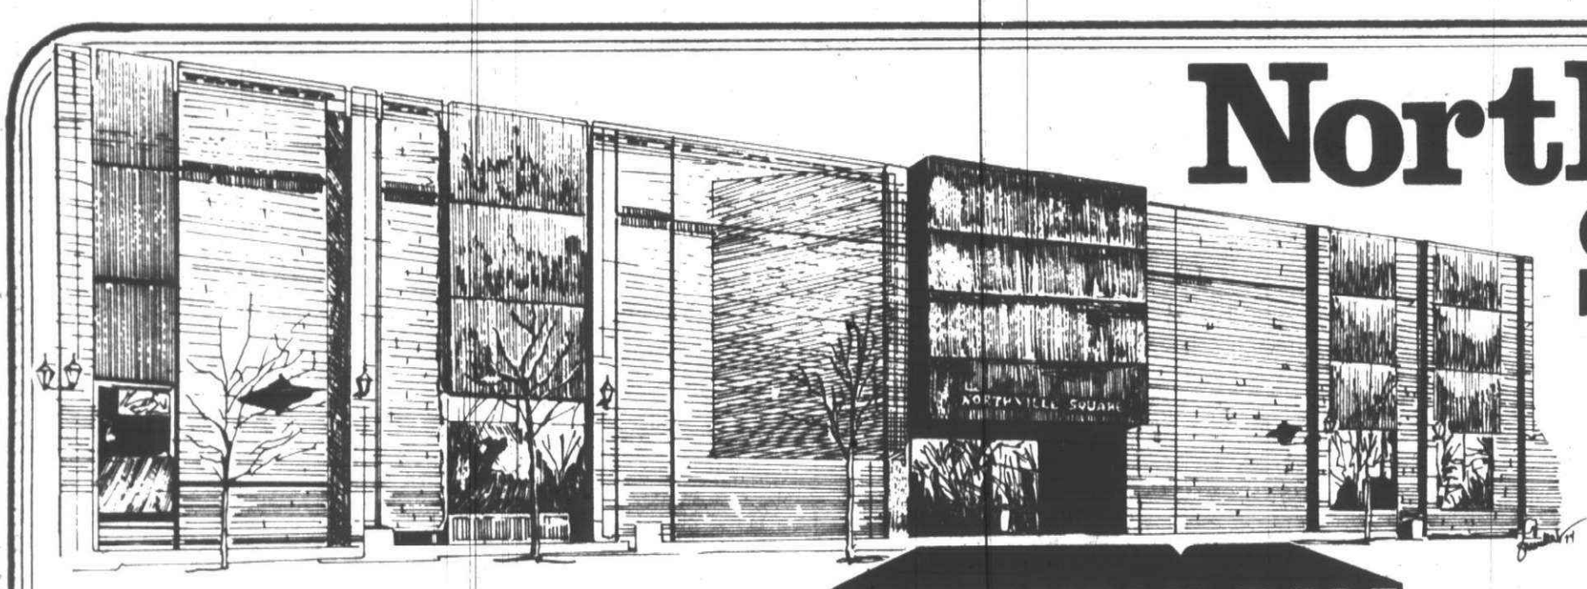

In terms of commitment, the VITA assistor can devote as much or as little time as he desires to assist taxpayers.

The IRS provides the necessary forms, schedules and background materials, and also makes available posters, flyers and other informational materials to help alert taxpayers to the free assistance. The club also is encouraged by the IRS to generate its own publicity.

CURRENTLY the IRS is contacting national public service groups and organizations asking them to participate in the VITA program for 1975.

Help also will come from college students, community action groups, welfare workers, religious and governmental persons and fraternal society members.

Other national or regional and local organizations which have not been contacted but would like to participate in this unique activity should call their local IRS training branch in Detroit and aks about "VITA participation."

A GOAL ALLOWED --FRANKLIN GOALIE CHUCK LATOUR HOLDS HIS HEAD IN DISBELIEF.

Salem Rocks destroy RU cagers, 80-60

By FRED DeLANO

Drawing All-American praise from the opposing coach, Plymouth Salem's Eric Agardy put on a sensational show for three quarters as the Rocks stormed past Redford Union, 80-60, in their continuing quest for a second straight Suburban Eight basketball crown.

The powerful 6-10 senior drove, hooked and tipped in shots with beautiful moves that put the ball in the hoop on 13 of his 14 tries. He also was three for three at the foul line to net 29 points for the night.

The busy Agardy also drew five personal fouls, going out of the game with 1:24 left in the third stanza. So completely had Agardy and his mates dominated play that by that time the Rocks owned a 35-point lead, 67-32, and Plymouth already was assured its 10th win in 11 outings.

"Agardy played like an All-American. I've seen him several other times and this was the best he's looked," spoke Coach Carl Andrews of RU. "They got the jump on us and that's all there was to it. We just weren't in the ball park."

In the league, Dearborn kept pace with Plymouth by its victory over Livonia Bentley and the two are tied for the loop lead at 6-1.

RU led Plymouth only at 2-0 in the opening seconds on a bucket by Gregg Wood and by the time the first period ended the Rocks were in front, 21-8. Agardy had 11 points in that quarter and he added 10 more before intermission as the Rocks went to the locker room with a 49-24 halftime bulge.

It was more of the same in the third period, which ended 71-41 and at which point Plymouth Coach Fred Thomann pulled off the horses. RU's Panthers then came on strong for a 19-9 edge in the final eight minutes primarily against Plymouth reserves.

Despite Agardy's domination of the scoring column and on the boards where he got 10 rebounds, it wasn't a one man show. Not only did Jim Ellinghausen and Tim Dillon both get into double figures with 16 and 14 points respectively, but the Rocks' passing game was the thing that made it all work as Ellinghausen and Dillon both got half a dozen assists.

"We're starting to mesh," said Thomann. "Sure, Eric had a fine game—probably his best—but also our passing game was great. Dillon in particular did a super job of penetrating."

Guard Ted Ackerman, with 11 points in the final period, led RU scoring with 20 followed by Wood with 12. However, 6-7 Tom Sweeney, whose 17 points had paced the Panthers to their overtime win over Bentley last week, was held to only two points by Plymouth and 6-6 Gary Kochish, the team's top scorer for the season, got four. RU is now 2-5 in the league and 5-7 overall.

In contrast, the Rocks got 49-point production from their starting front line of Agardy, Ellinghausen and Dan Moore, plus 16 points from the starting guards, Dillon and Brian Wolcott.

Friday night the Sub 8 will start its second seven-game round with RU at Belleville, Allen Park at Bentley and Dearborn at Edsel Ford. Plymouth will wait until Saturday night to host Trenton which it defeated earlier in the campaign, 80-49.

9th win for Spartans

Stevenson bumps Canton, 57-53

By TOM DONOGHUE
Sports Editor

The magnitude and enthusiasm of a basketball crowd usually establishes the mood and pace on the hardwood court.

Such was the case and the instance when the Spartans of Livonia Stevenson met the Plymouth Canton Chiefs at Plymouth in a non-league affair.

Four nights prior, Plymouth Salem fought Dearborn off to a tune of a 64-53 win before a crowd of near 2,000.

Such was not the case in this same gym with Canton and Stevenson squaring off. An optimistic guess would be a crowd figure of about 400.

It was Stevenson, 57-53 over Canton. The Spartans are now 9-4 for the season and Canton, which had dumped Churchill, 65-56, on Saturday is 6-6.

Plymouth fell behind after one quarter, 16-8, and trailed at one point in the second stanza by as much as 17 points.

Canton put itself back together and cut it to 27-21 at the half, and 39-35 heading into the final eight minutes.

Stevenson kept giving up its marginal lead and after Canton had tied it at 41-all early in the fourth, the Spartans pulled away to a six point spread.

But once again, it was back to two points with 50 seconds remaining. Dave Haberman connected for Stevenson to push it to 55-51 and Dave Edwards hit for Canton.

Jim Gilland sewed up the Spartan victory with a two-pointer with 20 seconds left.

Stevenson travels to Waterford tomorrow (Friday) and to West Bloomfield on Tuesday (Jan. 28). Canton hosts Northville tomorrow (Friday) in a key Western Six loop battle.

A victory for the Chiefs would put them in a tie for loop honors with the Mustangs who sport a 4-1 mark while the Chiefs stand at 3-2. Box scores:

Thurston dumps Harrison, 69-58

The high point of Farmington Harrison's basketball season probably will be that thrilling win at Northville High last Friday.

Beating Northville was a hard act to follow, and the Hawks couldn't keep up the winning streak. Thurston High stopped Harrison, 69-58, last Tuesday in a nonleague game.

The loss evened Harrison's season record at 5-5. The victory lifted Thurston to 4-7 under first-year coach Bill Croteau.

"The kids just put it all together," Croteau said. "We've been playing good defense all season, but tonight we played good offense too."

Harrison led 25-23 at halftime, but Thurston for back thanks to the shooting of Cory Rodriguez, a 6-1 guard, who scored eight points in the third quarter when Thurston pulled away for good. The Eagles outscored the Hawks, 23-14, in that quarter.

Rodriguez finished with 18 points to lead the winners, and forwards Dave Polidor and Gary Bireta each added 10 points.

"Rodriguez is a good shooter, a good outside shooter," Croteau said. "But we got those points from our underneath men, and I was pleased with that."

Thurston used a full-court press which forced Harrison into eight turnovers in the second half. "We got tough on our press," Croteau said. "We got the steal and we hustled a lot."

HARRISON COACH Bob Sutter could be pleased with the play of Mark Brozek, who came off the bench to score a game-high 20 points. Brozek hasn't played much recently because of an injured ankle.

Thurston shot 53 percent from the floor and 61 percent from the free-throw line. Harrison shot 43 percent from the field and 42 percent from the line. The Eagles held a 40-34 rebounding edge.

Harrison plays next at Walled Lake Western on Friday (Jan. 24). The Western Six League game begins at 8 p.m. Thurston resumes its Northwest Suburban League season on Friday at Garden City East.

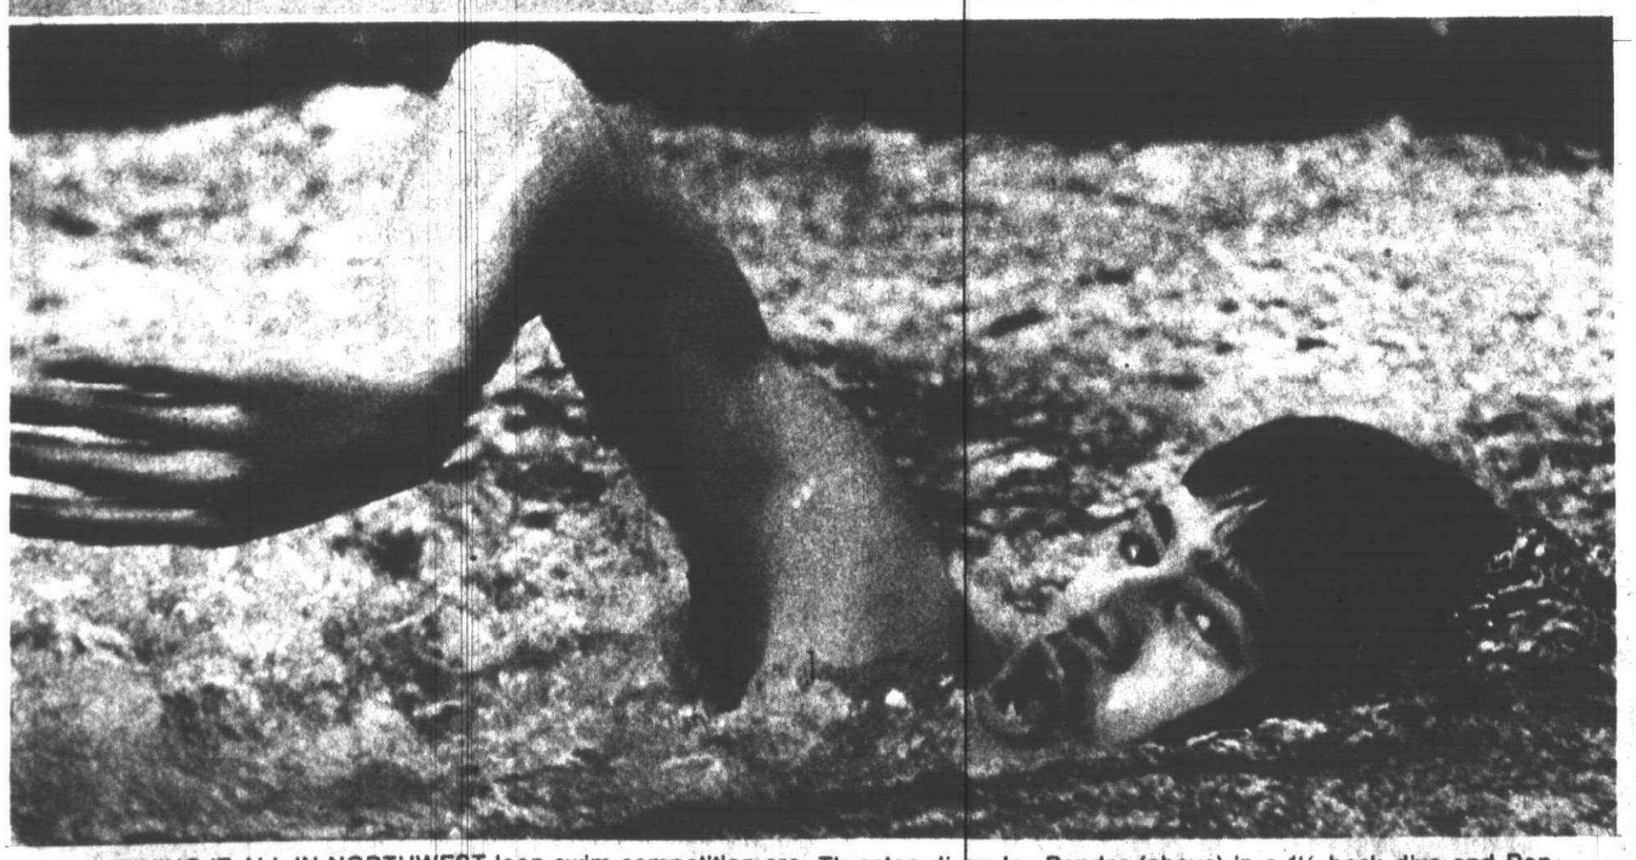

THURSTON (69): Rodriguez 8, 2-2, 18; Polidor 4, 2-3, 10; Bireta 4, 2-3, 10; Fazzini 2, 5-6, 9; Duryea 0, 0-1, 0; Krzywada 4, 1-3, 9; Prokop 0, 2-5, 2; Abundig 2, 0-0, 4; Maceritini 2, 1-1, 5; Deedee 1, 0-0, 2. Totals: 27, 15-24, 69.

HARRISON (58): Otto 3, 0-0, 6; Lopez 0, 0-0, 0; Mason 3, 1-4, 7; Stader 1, 0-5, 2; Styles 3, 2-4; 8; Wick 2, 0-0, 4; Vulaj 1, 3-3, 5; Spoutz 2, 0-0, 4; Slotnick 1, 0-0, 2; Adams 0, 0-1, 0; Brozek 9, 2-2, 20. Totals: 25, 8-19, 58.

Total Fouls: Harrison 20, Thurston 15.

Dearborn handles Bulldog attack

Bentley let another Suburban Eight foe slip away. Dearborn handed Bentley its fifth defeat in its last seven games, 79-67.

"We had Dearborn and let them get away," said Bulldog head mentor Larry Jackson who has seen his Bentley squad let a 4-1 mark slip into a now 6-6 overall showing.

For Dearborn it was a crucial contest after bowing to Plymouth Salem four days prior. Now with round one in the Suburban Eight over, Dearborn and Salem share the No. 1 slot with identical 6-1 marks.

For Bentley, it was a "funny game" in the words of Jackson.

"I guess Dearborn proved to be the better club."

Bentley exploded to a first quarter, 16-8 lead but that was about all the Bulldogs had to gloat about. Dearborn, behind the 42 point performance of Jim Vanderhull, took the second quarter, 23-13, the third, 23-19, and the final eight minutes, 25-19.

"Vanderhull just killed us," said Jackson. "I tried three different people on him but we simply couldn't stop him."

On the other hand, Bentley's 24 for 59 showing from the floor for 40 per cent was paced by Don Kegley with 20 points.

DEARBORN (79): Rucker, 1–0-1–2; Wimmer, 4–4-7–12; Vanderhull, 18–6-9–42; Haller, 4–0-0–8; Kwiatkowski, 0–3-5–3; Hiller, 1–0-0–2; Meadows, 3–0-2–6; Summerville, 1–2-2–4. TOTALS, 32–15-26–79.

BENTLEY (67): Dinsmore, 3–5-5–11; Kegley, 7–6-6–20; Rhodes, 6–2-4–14; Weiss, 5–2-2–12; Miller, 1–2-2–4; Smith, 1–1-2–3; Carlson, 0–0-2–0; Duckworth, 1–1-2–3. TOTALS, 24–19-25–67.

Northville cagers nip Clarenceville

Clarenceville's longest winning streak on the basketball court in a 55 game-three year span came to a quick halt but it wasn't without a struggle.

Bob Wolf's Trojans, who hadn't put together back-to-back wins since February of '72 had battered South Lyon and Milford.

With two minutes remaining against Northville, Clarenceville was in a 51-all game.

Clarenceville ran out of steam and Northville went on a 13-1 spree to take it hands down at the final buzzer, 64-52.

It was Clarenceville's ninth setback in 12 outings and for Northville, which had just fallen to Farmington Harrison, win No. 11.

"We gave it a good shot but fell short," commented Wolf. "I think we did show something in this game...that either we are better than people think we are or that Northville is one of the most over-rated clubs around."

Northville put to use it's fast break in the early going and wound up 10 of 21 from the floor the first quarter to take a 26-10 lead. Mike Campbell and Tom Eis each popped in six points for Northville.

Clarenceville jumped back in the second stanza, 20-12, to slice the halftime margin to 38-30.

"We slowed it down and worked out of a zone," added the Clarenceville coach.

Clarenceville connected on 20 of 59 from the field for a 34 per cent and Northville, 25 of 51 for a 49 per cent.

The Trojans host West Bloomfield tomorrow (Friday) and travel to Brighton and Waterford Kettering next week. Box score:

NORTHVILLE (64): Leu, 3–2-5–8; Benedict, 3–2-2–8; Eis, 7–6-10–20; Campbell, 7–0-3–14; Bolan, 3–1-1–7; Crissan, 2–0-0–4; Boerger, 0–1-2–1; Picolo, 0–2-2–2. TOTALS, 25–14-25–64.

Turf Tips, Quips

By DOC MINARD

Harness racing fans are amazed at the current winning streak of Spanish Mac, the six-year-old pacer owned by Bob Kalish, of Southfield, and trained and driven by Tom Merriman.

Spanish Mac, purchased for $10,000 last year but a bit of a disappointment, was given a long rest prior to the start of the Northville Downs meeting but did start racing again in December in the early winter pacing series at Jackson-Northville.

It didn't show that much in the early weeks of the series, finishing fourth on Dec. 14 and sixth on Dec. 21. But Kalish still insisted that the horse liked the Northville Downs half-mile strip and would come around.

It did exactly that in the $13,800 finale of the series, making a brilliant rally in the final quarter to win by a length at better than 29-1 odds and pick up the winner's share of the purse...in this case $6,900.

That was only its eighth win in 40 starts in 1974 a year in which the pacer earned $33,508 with five seconds and six thirds. All of the earnings were not for Kalish.

Now comes the new year and Spanish Mac has stretched its winning streak to four, winning all three starts in 1975 and establishing itself as the best pacer competing at Northville Downs.

THE LATEST TRIUMPH came Saturday in what is now being accepted as the usual style for Spanish Mac...far back going down the backstretch for the second lap and then starting a move that takes it past all challengers for the victory.

Consuelo, a front runner, had four lengths on Spanish Mac in this race and there appeared some doubt as to whether Merriman could get his horse out of the fourth hole and into the lead.

The combination of speed by Spanish Mac and a gradual lack of it by Consuelo enabled Merriman to take the lead turning into the stretch. Then he had to go all out to barely beat Good Box and Royal Spectator to the wire.

We predict stiff competition for the last mentioned duo and there's always the possibility that Hasty Ed will be back again before long to resume its duel with Spanish Mac.

This all makes for interesting action on Saturdays at the suburban half-mile track. Spanish Mac revives memories in the minds of oldtimers of the late Dr. Stanton, a pacer accredited with popularizing harness racing back in the '40s when it won race after race by only a scant margin.

Dr. Stanton left the 'Downs to compete in the east where it wrote history and became one of the greatest pacers of the early days of night harness racing in that area.

BOB'S LITTLE ARROW, a six-year-old pacer owned by Don Bohlinger of Livonia, is attracting quite a bit of attention at Northville with its winning ways.

The son of No Dream picked up $16,649 in purses in 1974 and even in this day and age that is considered quite a stack of hay. Bob's Little Arrow hit the target seven times in 24 starts, had four seconds and as many thirds.

But the big thing right now is that the chestnut gelding hasn't been anything but a winner since the middle of December when it whipped a fine field by eight lengths and has been first under the wire ever since.

Currently Bob's Little Arrow is working on a string of four, making it two for 1975 last Saturday when it won handily as the second choice in the betting.

The pacer always has had a great deal of closing speed but it seems to have even more than usual in the cold weather as the four victories attest.

Jayne Weller, the outstanding feminine driver-trainer from Ohio, doesn't train Her Mink, a six-year-old mare owned by Larry Sweeney of Flint, but she certainly made a difference when she took over the driving a month ago.

Her Mink shows only four wins in 28 starts in 1974, one of which was recorded by Jayne on Dec. 28, her first trip with the mare.

Since then she has won twice in 1975 and finished back in sixth when Her Mink was parked on the outside. The last win came Saturday when Jayne brought the mare from fourth place on the final turn to a photo finish victory as the favorite in the wagering.

It came in a trifecta and the combination of Her Mink, Flapjack and Volo Knox was worth $200.40.

FROM THE Detroit Race Course comes word that horses are starting to arrive from New England, Maryland and Florida for the meeting which will open on Feb. 21.

That will be the eraliest opening for the thoroughbreds in Michigan and you can expect things to move along quite rapidly now that Vice President and General Manager Dick Wilson has arrived on the scene after spending a couple of months in Florida.

Two of the most urgent items are negotiations with the mutuel clerks union and the horsemen...Wilson expects to be involved in both within a week.

Area junior fencers qualify for Olympic national finale

Four area youths will be off to the Junior Olympic fencing nationals come mid-February.

Livonia's Tom Klekner and Westland's Dennis Murphy, and Sherry and Terry Harms qualified for the Nationals in Portland, Oregon, in a qualifying tourney at Wayne State University in Detroit.

The top two fencers in each event are moved to the nationals, Feb. 15-17.

Klekner, a sophomore at Livonia Bentley, has now qualified for the nationals three consecutive years.

The retired Observer & Eccentric newsboy won two of five bouts last year and qualified for the '75 finale by placing second in the under 20 foil division. The Bentley student also wound up third in the under 16 sabre division.

Oak Park's Howard Cash won the under 16 foil and sabre berths and bested Klekner in the under 20 foil match.

Westland's Dennis Murphy qualified by taking a second under Cash in the under 16 foil. Jeff Arnold of Huntington Woods was third.

U-D pounces on Borgess, 77-42

Winless Bishop Borgess remained just that...winless.

For the 12th consecutive time, Mike Gutz's Spartan cagers found themselves on the short end of another lopsided score.

U-D High outscored Borgess in the second half, 44-19, to crush Borgess, 77-42.

"It really wasn't a bad game up to the half," commented Gutz whose cagers trailed only by 10, 33-23. "U-D simply went to town and fast-broke us to death that second half."

Borgess finished 18 of 45 from the field for a 40 per cent.

The Spartans travel to Divine Child tomorrow (Friday) and host non-leaguer Thurston on Tuesday (Jan. 28). Box score:

U-D (77): Mayes, 2–2-2–6; Jackson, 4–2-3–10; Anderson, 9–4-4–22; Robinson, 2–0-0–4; Bradley, 6–0-0–12; King, 1–0-0–2; Multrie, 4–3-3–11; Cresuichi, 3–0-0–6; Moor8, 0–0-0–4; McGinnis, 1–0-2–2. TOTALS, 32–13-16–77.

DALGLEISH CADILLAC OUTSELLS ALL AUTO DEALERS IN DETROIT

The current monthly figures released by the Detroit Automobile Dealers Association show an amazing sales story for Dalgleish Cadillac, Michigan's largest Cadillac dealer. The latest 30-day figures show that Dalgleish Cadillac outsold every auto dealer of every make of car in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties. This has never happened before in the history of Detroit automobile sales.

WHY?

The facts show that Dalgleish is the closest dealer to the Cadillac factory, with the lowest sticker prices in the USA and consequently the best deals. Dalgleish has an incredibly wide inventory including those hard-to-get models. If your car isn't in stock, Dalgleish can arrange for delivery in just 3 to 4 weeks. All freeways lead to Dalgleish, making it convenient for everyone in the three county area. Dalgleish has an unsurpassed reputation for outstanding service.

PRICE REDUCTION REBATE

In the case of a factory price reduction before March 1, you will be guaranteed a refund. Thus there is no need to hesitate in buying your new Cadillac now. Dalgleish has been serving Detroit for over 50 years, and with three generations of the family active in the business, they intend to continue for the next 50 years.

Glenn Rockets bounce Melvindale for 12th win

By JIM BRADLEY

Westland John Glenn battled its way past Melvindale 67-57, for its 11th consecutive win and a 12-1 season record.

Melvindale center, Dave Salewske, was ejected from the game with three minutes left in the third quarter after taking a poke at Rocket pivotman Terry Johnson.

Salewske's punch, coming after Johnson had caught him on the chin with his elbow, was indicative of the hard-fought contest.

Visiting John Glenn edged in front 20-18, after the first eight minutes of action which saw the score tied five times.

The Rockets inched a little further into the lead at half, 36-31 and were on top, 46-39, after three quarters. After Salewske's hasty departure, which also brought a technical against Melvindale coach, Wes Danyo, Glenn ran its lead to 18 points (61-43) with 3:48 left.

Melvindale's 14-6 scoring burst in the final moments brought it within 10 points, 67-57.

Rick Charney, Melvindale's 6-foot junior guard, was trying to throw a knockout punch of his own as he hit on six of seven from the floor in the first period for 12 of the Cards' 18 points.

Meanwhile, at the other end of the court, Johnson sank four baskets underneath and Harry Polovino popped three from the top of the key to go with John Jesson's two layups for a 20-18 lead.

Charney, who drilled in 12 baskets for 24 points, was held to a single bucket in the second eight minutes. Lefthanded teammate Jim Lankford hit for six and Roger Martin added four to try and offset the balanced scoring of John Glenn, whose five starters are shooting 52 per cent thus far this season.

Moist of the Rockets' 16 second-period points came from their two guards, Kirk Nagle, who banged home two long ones and two free throws, and Polovino, who continued to find the range from outside with two more long distance bombs.

Glenn led, 36-28, with 25 seconds left in the half but Mel Koch hit a free throw and Charney again drilled in a 20-footer to pull the host squad to within five at the buzzer, 36-31.

In the second half, Glenn went into a zone defense and the game slowed with each team working for a good shot. Glenn won the quarter, 10-8, in a defensive struggle.

Struggling along with a 42-37 lead when the Salewske-Johnson altercation broke out, Glenn then went on a 19-6 scoring tear and the issue was settled.

After the referee bounded the offending player and a technical was also called on the Melvindale coach, Polovino sank both gift tosses for a 44-37 lead. Charney and Polovino exchanged baskets just before the buzzer ending the third stanza.

Johnson, who led Glenn with 22 points, two more than Polovino, opened the final quarter with a vengeance. He drove the lane to score and was fouled, completing a three-point play. Then Jesson tipped in Johnson's rebound before Johnson barged in again to drop in another basket.

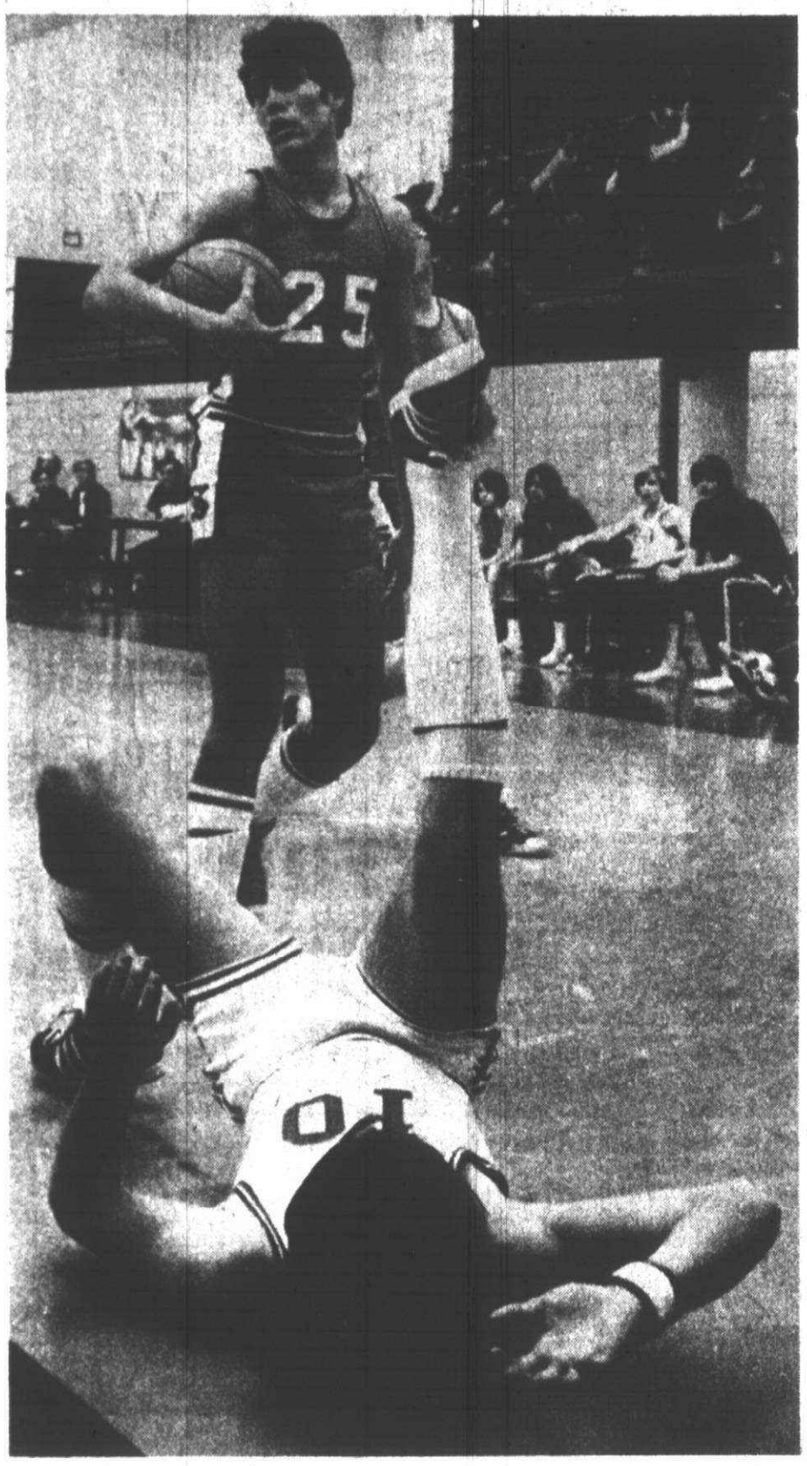

Charney and Lankford responded for the Cards before Polovino, Jesson and Johnson hit rapid-fire buckets to give Gordie Davis' Rockets a 61-47 advantage. Melvindale's 14-6 scoring spurt in the final three minutes was too little and too late.

Glenn, a perfect 5-0 in the Northwest Suburban League and highly ranked in the Metro West area, travels to North Farmington Friday.

Sacred Heart tops St. Agatha

"I just don't know how many times I can shuffle the cards," commented St. Agatha basketball Coach Jim George after witnessing loss No. 12 in his first campaign.

Dearborn Sacred Heart pounded the Aggies, 53-41.

"If only we could get all five people to put it together at the same time," added the Aggie head mentor who is now 1-12 in his rookie season.

St. Agatha fell behind, 15-9, after one quarter to Sacred Heart, and 34-22 at the half. That margin held true with the Dearborn team on top after three quarters, 43-30, and 12 points at the final buzzer.

Gary Beyrand's 18 points went for naught for the Aggies in an overall 17 for 46 show from the floor for 41 per cent. Sacred Heart hit 23 of 50 for 46 per cent.

The Aggies are off this Friday and jump back into Second Division West play next Tuesday (Jan. 28) at St. Andrew. Box score:

SACRED HEART (53): Carvana, 2–3-4–7; Plasters, 7–0-0–14; Dorchak, 5–0-0–10; Jolly, 6–2-2–14; Vetz, 0–1-2–1; Gilmore, 1–0-0–2; Nowosielski, 1–1-2–3; Bourcier, 1–0-0–2. TOTALS, 23–7-10–53.

There's a new target for the sharpshooters along the bowling front and it may take a lot of doing to hit it— or replace it— before the season ends.

It was put there last week by Tony Loiacano, of the Gobel team, when he linked games of 268, 278 and 263 for an 809 series in the Bonanza Classic at Orchard Lanes.

Well known throughout the entire suburban area, Tony had his biggest night when he posted 31 strikes. He had 10 in the first game, 11 in the second, and 10 in the third-- and most of them were solid hits.

It was the third 800 series posted in the area this season and beat the 806 rolled at Howe's Lanes in Clarkston, and the 800 contributed by Al Urbaniak at Wonderland Lanes in Livonia.

Only one 800 series had been recorded in the metropolitan Detroit area in each of the last two year.

ANN SETLOCK, day manager of Garden Lanes, has the honor of being the only Michigan woman bowler to gain a place among the nation's top average competitors.

She is listed in eighth place for the past five years with a mean average over that period of 196. She is in 11th place on the 10-year list with a mark of 192.

THE BOWLERS in the Bel-Aire Classic went on a scoring spree last week when they posted 130 games over 200 and 88 over the double century mark along with two 700 series.

Bill Walker set the pace with a 731 on games of 258, 229 and 244 while Bob Boss landed the runner-up position with a 727 that included a 257 game. Behind these two came Joe Wilson with 689, Jerry Hay with 677 and Jack Brown with 670.

To top off the night, Ole Jensen's Laramie team rolled a 3235 for the season's high.

BILL SPARGO again found the Westland Bowl lanes to his liking last week and had one of his best nights of the season. He opened with a 264, followed with 214 and closed with 267 for 747 to beat Dick Beattie for the pacemaking role by 80 pins.

High scores also marked competition in the other leagues. Judy Susko, a 160 average bowler, had games of 254, 180 and 196 for a 630 in the Bowlerettes circuit and Wally Wadysz went 102 pins over his average in the Monday morning league with a 272 game.

THE GIRLS IN THE Ladies Classic at Garden Lanes also had a great night when Pat Lisowski showed the way with a 267 in 623 and Mary Mohacsi was right behind with a 591. Nancy Bartlett added a 572 where she was tied with Mae Lackey.

In the junior house league Pat Libby, a 136 average bowler, posted a 522 that included her first 200 game.

AMONG THE OTHER highlights of the week Tony Collins, a 177 average bowler, fashioned a 712 series at Plaza Bowl with games of 248, 220 and 244, and Norma Johnson paced the Bowlerettes at Plymouth Bowl with a 631, while Joe Taber showed the way to the senior citizens with a 563 that included games of 208 and 200.

Another of the highlights was produced at Mayflower Lanes when Connie Grandis had an all-spare game of 181. Among the top scorers for the women were Carol Westcott with 571, Lee Roberts with 571 and Diane Richardson with 512.

Four more members joined the split conversion club, Nora Sundling toppled the 6-7-10; Rose Seiler knocked over the 2-6-10; Amy Skracke did the same with the 6-7-10 and Judy Naklenburg converted the 4-2-9.

BEN LOCKE was the man of the hour at Merri-Bowl. He registered a 278 in 632 and Barb Sanchez, a 141 average bowler in the St. Genevieve circuit, came through with a 241.

And at Farmington Lanes, Sharon Douglas paced the Teen Classic with a 225 in 563.

DOT FULTON had another big day in the Livonia Lanes Classic. She took the three game series with 525-96--621 aside from winning the third single with a 206-32-238.

In the other singles, Loretta Moersch won the first with a 190-32--222 and Madeline Donehue took the second with 186-40--226.

Another high point of the week came when Lee Schuyler, a 169 average bowler, fashioned a 596 series in the Wednesday league. To get the big total she linked games of 171-200 and 225.

PENNY BEHN, moved back into the spotlight in the Bowlerettes league Monday when she rolled a 259 game--the highest single of the season in the all-star league.

Marge Kropacek's Shirey team had a great duel with the Jac-Ro team, one of the leders, and lost the deciding match by a mere two pins, 924 to 922.

Natural look

MAN-MADE MASONARY paneling duplicates the natural appearance texture and color veining of ovenfired brick. The 18-brick panels cover three square feet and are made of 60 per cent crushed stone and reinforced with fiber glass.

Tints heighten room harmony

Tinting may be just the trick to blend a wood accent wall with a room's carpeting, draperies and furniture.

Pastel blue, mustard gold and sage green are just a few of the colors possible with light stains that retain wood's rich grain pattern and texture.

Ponderosa pine, white pine and Engelman spruce are low-resin woods that are well suited to interior staining. To assure the best effect, try one or more hues ok scrap pieces of the wood being used.

Make your own sauerkraut

It's been a good year for cabbage so why not make some homemade sauerkraut?

Here's a recipe sent to us by Nichol's Garden Nursery, Albany, Oregon:

For making small amounts, using only four or five pounds of cabbage, wash and finely shred, clean crisp cabbage, with cores removed. One pound of shredded cabbage should fill a pint jar.

To each pound, add two teaspoons of salt, then mix thoroughly. Only four or five pounds of cabbage should be prepared at one time to assure proper mixing.

After packing in jars, put on lids but do not seal. Place jars in an enamel pan, or on a board or other container, which won't be damaged by brine, and allow to ferment in a cool place for about 10 days.

NEXT, prepare a brine of two tablespoons of salt dissolved in one quart of water. Pour this liquid into jars and fill to cover sauerkraut.

Clean jars thoroughly so lids fit tightly, and process for 15 minutes.

You'll have delicious kraut. Some people use wine with their sauerkraut, but we've never made it this way. Does anyone have a recipe for making "winekraut?" Please send it along. Meanwhile, we still have copies of our booklet, "34 recipes for Using Sauerkraut." And one of them tells how to make chocolate cake, using sauerkraut. It's great, and you can't tell it from cocoanut shreds. Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for your free copy.

The Green Thumb

By GEORGE ABRAHAM

WHAT CAN BE DONE to control or prevent that powdery material on the leaves of begonias, violets and other house plants?

This material is a fungus (powdery mildew) and leaves can be so badly affected as to cause stunting, discoloration and some are deformed.

The Rieger begonia, tuberous and others are all susceptible.

For control, Sanitatin is a good preventative. Snip off badly diseased leaves promptly. Avoid splashing water on the foliage. Good air movement around the plants helps reduce the mildew problem.

Plants that are well-spaced are often less severely attacked than those that are crowded. Wiping off leaves with a damp cloth sometimes removes the spores and disease.

GREEN THUMB CLINIC: "Is it safe to use cat litter in the compost pile?"

Answer: Composted kitty litter is fine for ornamental plants, shrubs, trees and flowers, but it is not a good idea for a vegetable garden. A common cause of eye infection is a one-celled parasite Toxolpasma gondii, which is carried by excrement. Don't let this scare you into getting rid of your cat. Kitty litter (used) can be scattered on icy driveways or around trees and shrubs, but not on the vegetable garden, or compost for use on edible plants.

Linoleum on way out

People who sell resilient floor coverings are caught between feelings of nostalgia and relief over the news that linoleum will no longer be made in this country.

The relief was due to the anticipation that now their products would be called by their rightful names—vinyl asbestos tile or the various kinds of sheet vinyl—rather than the almost generic term "linoleum."

The nostalgia was over the demise of our first resilient flooring.

Linoleum goes back for a long time—115 years. It was invented in England in 1860 by Frederick Walton, who had noticed that linseed oil oxidized on the surface of open paint cans.

He devised a mix of this oxidized oil, ground cork and resin on a backing of burlap, which was cured for weeks in large ovens. The result was an inexpensive and long-lasting floor covering.

ACCORDING TO the Better Floors Council of the Resilient Tile Institute, linoleum has been produced in the United States since 1909.

Colors were dull at first, but by the early '20s the industry had so improved them and the manufacturing technology that linoleum became our most popular floor covering in kitchens, baths, hallways and other heavy duty areas.

It has gradually been supplanted by the more modern versions, mainly asbestos tile which was introduced in the early '50s. But over the years it was so much a part of our lives we often referred to any type of resilient as linoleum.

It was a good product, but it probably won't be missed. We have better ones now.

Smith supports more patrols

Wayne County Commissioner Royce E. Smith has declared he will fight to continue and increase Sheriff's Road Patrol services for townships.

Smith made his statement after a meeting at which a committee of the County Board of Commissioners voted in favor of maintaining the patrols at their present level for 90 days after Feb. 1.

The recommendation by the Public Safety and Judiciary Committee will be considered by the Ways and Means Committee at a meeting Thursday, Jan. 23. All 27 commissioners serve on Ways and Means.

Meanwhile a subcommittee will try to induce the townships to contribute to the cost of the patrols.

The public safety committee appointed a subcommittee consisting of Commissioners George Hart (D)Dearborn), Edward K. Michalski (D)Detroit), and George F. Killeen (D-Detroit).

Killeen last year served on a two-member subcommittee which was assigned to negotiate a monetary arrangement with the townships.

SO FAR the townships, all located in western Wayne County, have refused to contribute to the cost of the road patrol, contending they cannot afford to do so and that the Sheriff has a legal obligation to provide police services in the townships.

A lawsuit asking Wayne Circuit Court to sustain their position was initiated by seven townships and is pending before Judge Thomas J. Foley. At the request of the townships' attorney, a hearing on the case was adjourned from Jan. 17 to Jan. 31.

The judge was told the townships want to amend their pleadings to argue not only that the Sheriff is legally required to provide police protection, but also at whatever level is reasonably required for public safety.

The plaintiffs are the townships Brownstown, Canton, Huron, Northville, Plymouth, Sumpter and Van Buren.

THE TOWNSHIPS were represented at the public safety committee meeting, but the 90-day extension was voted by the committee without any discussion with the township spokesmen or non-committee members, such as Smith.

The board declared it wanted the townships to make up the $97,000 difference between the $370,000 appropriated by the board and the $467,000 necessary to maintain the patrols at their present level for a full year.

Originally, the board allocated only $350,000 for the patrols for the county fiscal year which started Dec. 1. Later the board added $20,000 to maintain last year's strength through January while negotiations with the townships continued.

In 1963 the former county board of supervisors adopted a policy of eventually ending free township patrols. This was later reaffirmed by the elected board.

ARMED with tax and other figures, Smith declared:

"I intend to press for funding for the full year when this matter comes up at Ways and Means. The townships have a right to the service. They should be getting more, not less. The patrols are about 50 percent of what they should be. If there are some minor things that have to be cut elsewhere in order to have better police protection, the people are for that. Police protection is the number-one concern of the people in my district."

At present a total of 28 deputies is assigned to the township patrols. Three cars are on the road around the clock seven days a week.

"There are no more Sheriff's cars than there were 15 years ago, to my knowledge," Smith stated. "Yet Canton Township's population has doubled since the 1970 census and Van Buren's has almost doubled. How the road patrol can be expected to adequately protect the out-county with the same number of cars is a mystery to me."

SMITH SAID afterward that he is opposed to the request, approved by the board majority Dec. 19 before Smith took office, that the townships share $97,000 of the cost of the Sheriff's patrols or face a service cutback.

"If the townships give any money, that will get the foot in the door," Smith said, "and once somebody gets his foot in the door, he is two-thirds of the way in. I am for 100 percent county funding."

Smith argued that the $467,000 annual cost of the present patrol is a minor item in the $304 million county budget.

"The county is collecting $9 million in property taxes in the townships," he added, "and the road patrol is the only tangible service township taxpayers see for their money."

HE BELIEVES the taxing limits on townships are another strong argument for maintaining the patrols.

Townships are limited to a one mill tax ($1 per $1,000 of equalized property valuation.

Smith also disagreed with the argument that the townships should pay for their police services because cities are required to.

"Cities get plenty of free service from the Sheriff," he said. "If we have trouble with our police radios, the Sheriff's department repairs them and charges only for parts. The Sheriff's crime lab is at the disposal of cities any time it is requested. So is the Metro Squad.

Put the damper on wasted heat

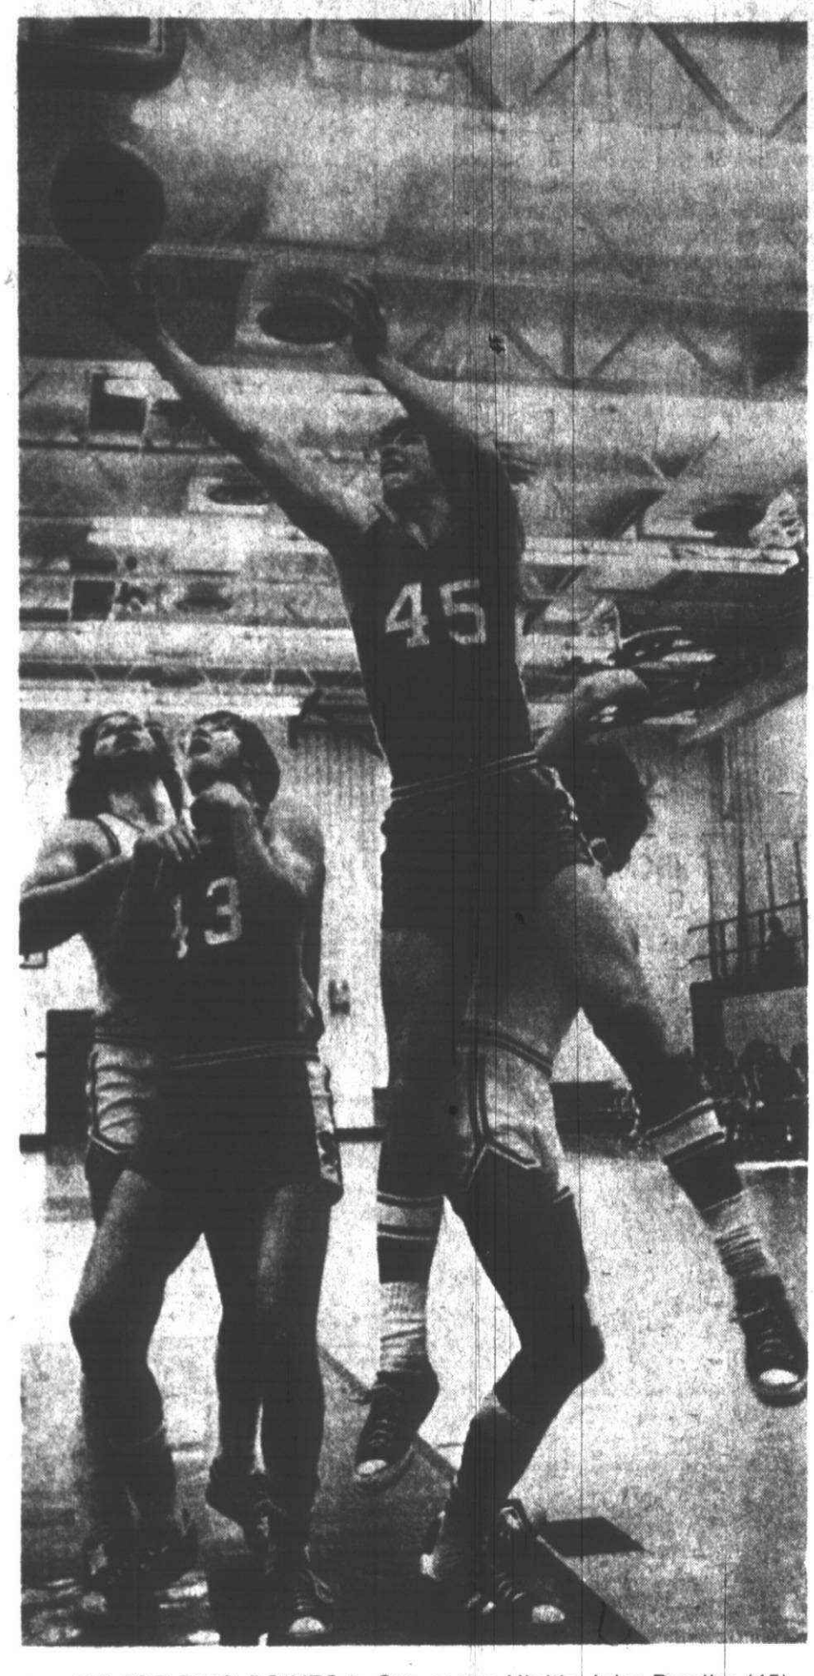

Don't let heat (and dollars) go up your fireplace chimney. When the fire's out, keep the fireplace damper closed. Seal off other heat wasters by...

- Weather-stripping around doors and windows.
- Caulking cracks.
- Keeping drapes and blinds drawn at night.
- Keeping your thermostat set at the lowest comfortable temperature during daytime and dialing down to at least 65 degrees for sleeping.

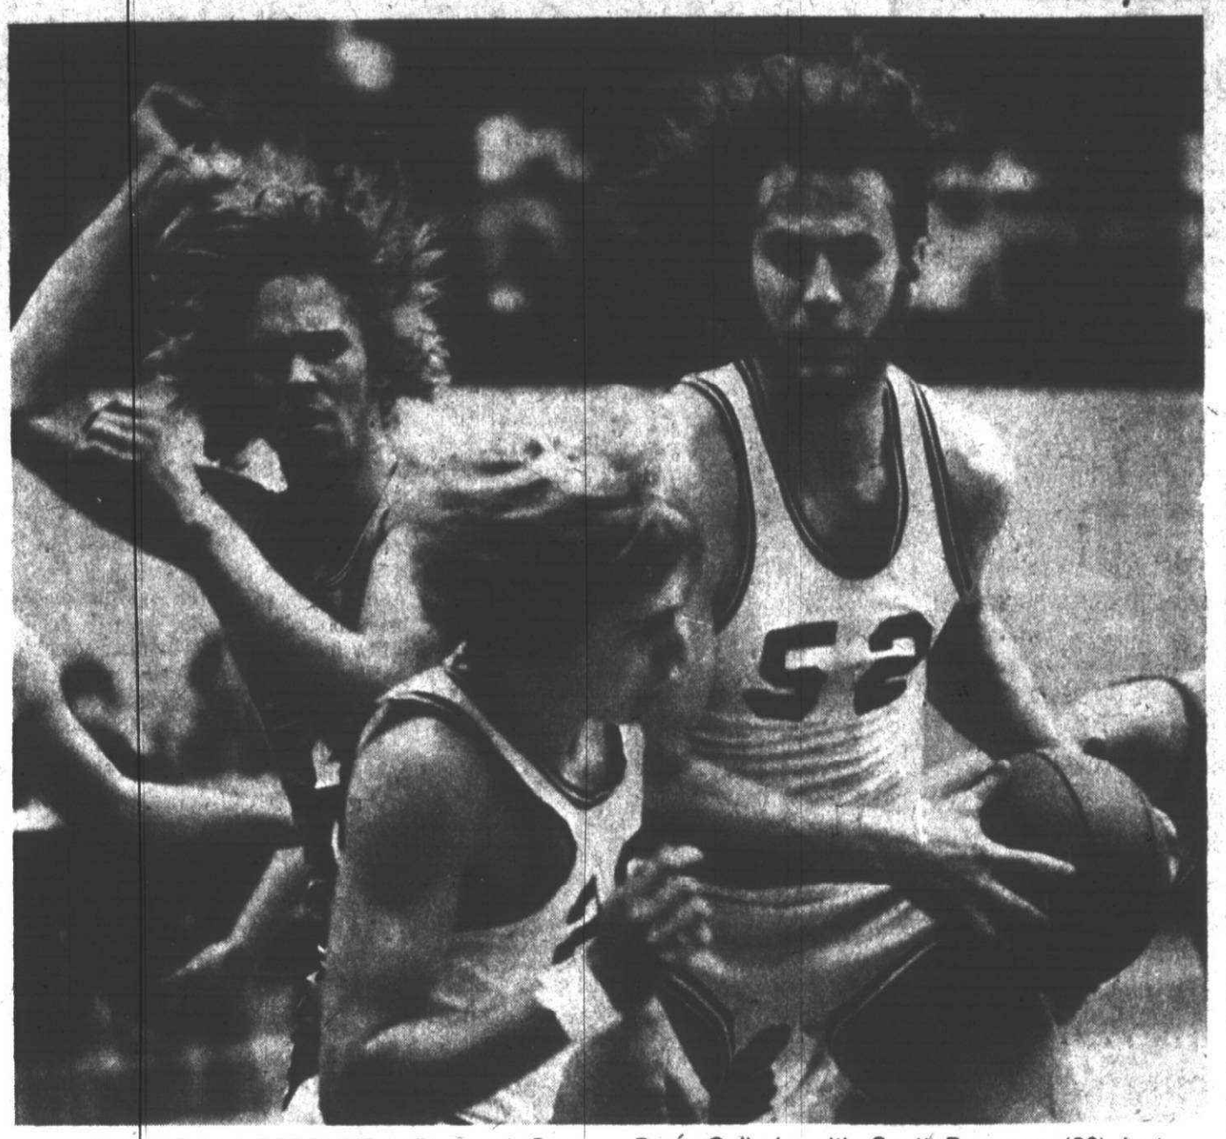

Also, check your attic. The greatest heat loss (and costliest for you) is through your roof. Proper insulation...at least six inches, is one of the best ways you can conserve heat — and save money, too.

Area concerts feature Ani Kavafian

ANI KAVAFIAN,

By SUE ROSIEK

Violinist Ani Kavafian will grace area stages in two performances next week. She will appear with the Oakway Symphony Orchestra Sunday, Jan. 26 and at Schoolcraft College on Tuesday, Jan. 28.

At 26, Miss Kavafian has received many honors and rave reviews. a New York Times review of her latest recital at the Metropolitan Museum of Art said: "She will be one of the great violinists of today. Perhaps she is already."

MISS KAVAFIAN was born in Istanbul, Turkey of Armenian parents. Her family moved to the Detroit area in 1956 and shortly after she started studying violin.

She attributes her early interest in the instrument to her musical family. "My parents played the violin and I was always listening to music around the house."

Her early training was with Ara Zerounian and Mischa Mischakoff. She attended Interlochen National Music Camp and won both piano and violin competitions, performing concertos on each instrument with the Interlochen orchestra.

After graduating from Kimball High School, Royal Oak, in 1966 went to New York.

"I was a little scared at the thought of moving to New York. I had only visited the city once and it was so overwhelming. I didn't think I would like it," she recalls.

At her mother's urging she enrolled at the Juilliard School where she studied with Ivan Galamian. Looking back she says she is grateful for her mother's gentle push.

Miss Kavafian is a member of Young Concert Artists, an honor she received as winnner of the International Auditions in 1973.

SHE HAS APPEARED with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and other symphony orchestras throughout the country. Active in chamber music, she was invited to the Festival of Two Worlds in Spoleto, Italy for the past two summers. She has been a frequent guest with the Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center in New York. She also has perfomed recitals in Paris and Turkey.

She enjoys performing Mendelssohn chamber music, Brahms, and Mozart.

"I love to hear Bach, but it's very difficult to play. The harmony is so complex," she says.

Her favorite violinists are Heifetz and Ostra.

Besides the violin she enjoys tennis, cooking and listening to Burt Bacharach and Neil Diamond albums. She doesn't enjoy "rock" music because, "it just isn't very relaxing." Miss Kavafian also plays the piano.

Her feelings about New York have changed since she first arrived in the city eight years ago. "I love it now," she says. "It's my adopted home. New York is the central for quality art and music, and it is exciting."

Miss Kavafian finds New York audiences are often more critical of musical performances than audiences in other parts of the country.

SHE SHARES an apartment in mid-Manhattan with her sister, Ida, also a violinist, and kittens Muffin and Marmalade. Ida, 22, is currently on a concert tour of the West coast, and a student at Juilliard School.

Miss Kavafian's mother, Mrs. Peruz Zerounian, is concertmaster of the Oakway Symphony Orchestra and the Detroit Women's Chamber Orchestra. Her first teacher and step-father Ara Zerounian is principal violinist of the Oakway and a member of the chamber orchestra. The Zerounians also play with the Jewish Center Symphony Orchestra.

Besides the private lessons the girls received, Mrs. Zerounian says she always supervised their practice sessions. "I recognized the girls' had talent, but I also knew it would take a lot of hard work to develop their abilities."

The Zerounians are on the faculty of the National Music Camp at Interlochen. Mrs. Zerounian gives private lessons and her husband is a music instructor in the Detroit School District. He also teaches privately.

MRS. ZEROUNIAN beams when speaking about her daughters and their musical accomplishments. She makes a point of visiting her daughters whenever they have an important concert. She was in New York last month when Ani played at the Museum of Art and she plans to accompany Ida, on a three-week concert tour of Europe in May.

When the family gets together, they don't always discuss music. According to Mrs. Zerounian their favorite subject is cooking. "We all like to cook so we spend most of the time exchanging recipes."

New Majority merits standing ovation

By SUE ROSIEK

The New Majority, a group of young people committed to "spreading the good news," deserves a round of applause for its production of "Godspell," the musical based on the Gospel according to St. Matthew.

It is one of the first theater groups in the metropolitan area to obtain rights to the popular New York musical, and the group's performance recently in Clarenceville High School Auditorium, proved it was deserving of the opportunity.

The musical is not the typical Bible story. Instead, it features a modern Jesus Christ, sporting red and white stripped trousers and sneakers, reprimanding sinners, and teaching his colorfully clad band of disciples through musical parables.

Wes Buckley of Redford Township, a member of the local folk duo "Christian and Buckley," sings and dances an impressive and often comical Christ.

TWELVE OTHER cast members portray a variety of characters from Mary Magdalene to the prodigal son.

The musical accompaniment is provided by Vicki Dutton, piano; Dan Madison, lead guitar; Tom Lehman, organ; Bill Anderson, drums; Jim Bowman, bass guitar and Chuck Mulka, acoustic guitar. The musicians, under the direction of Miss Carol Hornung,choral director at Clarenceville junior and senior high schools, are excellent, and often help the cast over the show's very few rough spots.

Miss Hornung, Jo Ann Lepper, producer and director Tom Bartasavage have sucessfully channeled the group's talents into a first-rate production.

Besides the show's familiar "Day By Day," other fine musical pieces are "Prepare Ye the Way of the Lord," "God Save the People," "All For the Best" and "On the Willows."

The musical finale is exhilarating and the performers' enthusiasm overwhelming.

A minimum amount of stage equipment, consisting of an aluminum fence with a flashy lightening bolt backdrop, ala Peter Max design, proves simple but effective. The chorus, seated behind the fence, and the cast remain on stage the entire show.

Individuals or groups of characters are spotlighted when performing. This avoids unnecessary pauses and interruptions and helps the show to move along rapidly.

Costumes were made by the cast and reflect a an ingenious and wild assortment of colors and styles.

The show is upbeat, interesting and entertaining.

"GODSPELL" IS the New Majority's second theatrical attempt. The group, which was formed in 1972 by Father Sidney Eckert, then co-pastor of St. Valentine Catholic parish, and Mrs. Lepper, the present moderator, performed "Jesus Christ Superstar" last year.

Superstar's overwhelming response prompted "Godspell."

New Majority will present "Godspell" Jan. 31, Feb. 1, 2, 7 and 8 at 8 p.m. in Wayne County Community College Rosary Center, 8551 Greenfield, Detroit. Tickets at $3 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12 are available by sending a check or money order in a self-addressed, stamped envelope to: New Majority, 26095 Dow, Detroit, 48239. Tickets also will be available at the door .

Chorus performs Eitzen works

Most of the featured soloists were infants when Lee Eitzen was commissioned to write six songs called "Creatures and Colors" for the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

The soloists comprise the chorus of East Middle School, and they will perform Eitzen's 1963 work with the Plymouth Symphony at 4 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 26.

Wayne Dunlap will conduct the annual family concert in the auditorium of Plymouth Salem High School, Joy Road, west of Canton Center Road.

Eitzen has a long association with the Plymouth Symphony. He was an orchestra member at one time, and his wife, Leslie, has been a vocalist with the orchestra. Eitzen earned his doctorate in composition at the University of Michigan and has taught in high schools and colleges in Iowa, Ohio, Virginia and Detroit.

The East Middle School chorus is directed by William J. Grimmer, who has been in the Plymouth school system 18 years and at East since it opened 17 years ago.

All the works in this year's family concert are either descriptive or story-telling.

Opening the program will be Johann Strauss' "Pleasure Train Polka" followed by Villa-Lobos' "The Little Train of the Brasilian Countryman" and Arthur Honnegger's "Pacific 231."

After Eitzen's six songs on "Creatures and Colors," the program will close with Mussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition," orchestrated by Maurice Ravel.

Tickets at $3 for adults and $1.50 for senior citizens will be available at the door. There is no charge for K-12 students at this concert.

Senior citizens will be given free bus rides from the Tonquish Creek residence in Plymouth beginning 45 minutes beforeconcert-time. Free baby sitting by girl scouts will be provided.

Madonna has jazz ensemble in concert

The Schoolcraft Jazz Ensemble, directed by Richard T. Saunders, will appear in concert Thursday, Jan. 30 at 8 p.m. in Madonna College. The program will benefit the Madonna College Scholarship Fund and is open to the public.

There is no admission charge but donations will be accepted during intermission.

The Jazz Ensemble, which is made up of 22 area residents and Schoolcraft students, plays primarily popular brass and percussion numbers spanning the past three decades. It also features the guitar, saxaphone, and Cordavox in numbers.

The group's recent appearances include Clarencevile High School Auditorium where it played the warm-up for performances by the Woody Herman and Maynard Ferguson bands.

The Madonna program will be "April in Paris," "Superstar," "Country Road," and Pocahantas."

The concert will be held in the Madonna Activities Center at the corner of Schoolcraft and Levan Roads, Livonia.

TENPINS: Women bowl over male game

By W.W. EDGAR

The grand old game of toppling tenpins, looked upon as a man's stronghold for more than seven centuries, is now being taken over by women, and the time may not be far distant when they will dominate the bowling scene.

Ever since the game was discovered—and it has been traced back to 520 BC—it has been strictly a man's sport. As late as a half century ago, if one wanted to see a woman on the lanes he would have to peek behind a curtain.

Even then the women who bowled were few and far between. There was a time when even these brave ladies were looked upon with scorn for frequenting the bowling (alleys) usually an adjunct to old-time saloons.

BUT THINGS have changed, and now the housewives of America are steadily making their presence felt to the point where they are considered the "backbone of the bowling industry.

The great advance of women bowlers is revealed in the latest membership figures released by the two top governing bodies—The American Bowling Congress (ABC) and the Woman's International Bowling Congress (WIBC).

They show there are 8.5 million sanctioned bowlers in the country. Of this number, there are 4.2 million men and 3.5 million women, with 800,000 in youth divisions.

While these figures are interesting, they do not tell the real story about the women's advance. This is told in the number of new members taken in during the past year.

THE ABC accepted only one-half the number admitted to the women's ranks. The ABC showed a gain of 83,994, compared to 159,254 sanctioned by the WIBC. At this rate it shouldn't take the women long to boast the larger membership.

Another interesting note is that the ABC was organized in 1900, while the WIBC came into being almost 16 years later.

MUCH OF the impetus for the women's advance was provided in Detroit where the late James Shillady, then the manager of the old Recreation Building, set aside one of the four bowling floors exclusively for women way back in 1918.

Under this set-up the women had their own girl pinsetters and evan a young woman behind the desk. The entire floor of 22 lanes was off-limits for the male of the species. It was the first set-up of its kind in America.

With this start the Detroit Woman's Bowling Association was formed and through the efforts of Lillian C. Jacobs, the late Emma Hill and the present officials, headed by Agnes Ekstrom, the association became the largest in the country. It not only boasts the largest membership, with 107,000, but also conducts the largest city tournament in the country.

Like the national organization, the Detroit women are fast gaining on the men who now top the nation with 141,500 members.

THROUGH the years Detroit and Michigan women have played a major role not only in membership, but in performances too.

Chief of Michigan's contributors was Marion Ladewig, the bowling grandmother of Grand Rapids, who is rated as the greatest woman bowler of all time.

Mrs. Ladewig won the national all-star eight times and was named woman bowler of the year the same number of times. No one ever has approached her record.

She also was the captain of the Fanatorium team of Grand Rapids which held the national spotlight for years.

DETROIT also produced such outstanding teams as Clara Allen's Olympics, Agnes Ekstrom's Gears by Enterprise team and "Eddie" Coy's Colonial Broach combination that captured a number of titles—local and national.

Automation, both in the home and in the bowling establishments, brought about the present surge of women on the approaches. When housework was made easier, it gave housewives more leisure time. Simultaneously, the automatic pinsetter became a reality, and made bowling possible at all hours of the day. Lanes started to spring up in all neighborhoods.

As a result, ladies leagues abound in the morning hours and even into the afternoons while hubby is at work. So great has been their influence that most of the major establishments now provide nurseries and baby-sitters while Mama bowls.

THE INCREASE in the women's activities has carried over to the men's ranks where mixed leagues (husbands and wives) provide a major share of the competition.

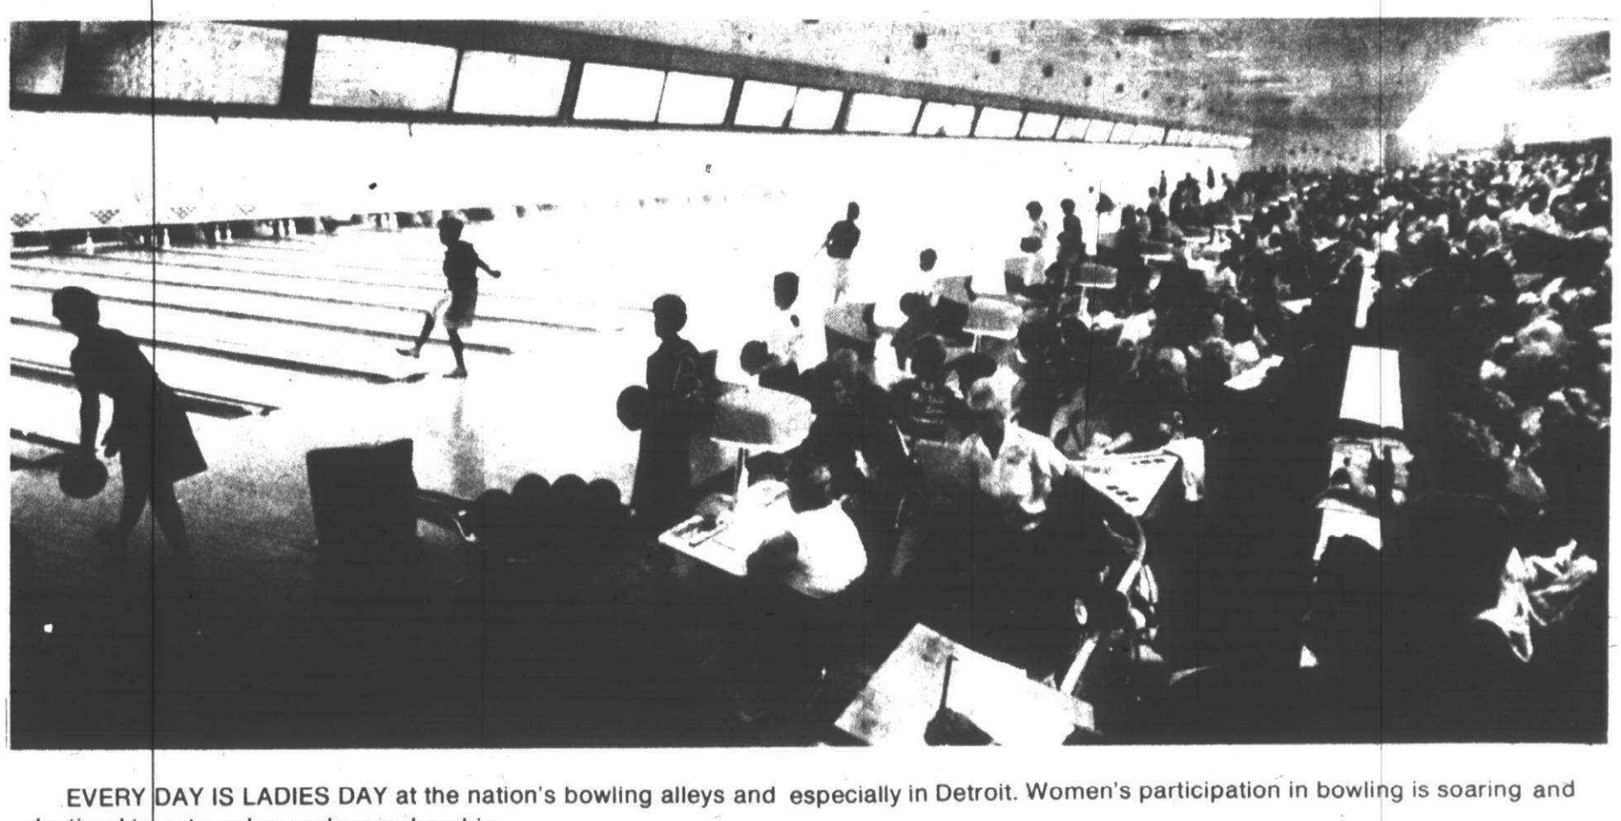

The women's touch also is noticable in the modern equipment, where multi-colored bowling balls have replaced the old black sphere. And there is a riot of color in the uniforms of both the men and the women.

With it all, metropolitan Detroit still is providing its share of star women bowlers. Only recently Mary Mohacsi, the Livonia school teacher, played a star role in the world championships at Caracas, Venezuela, by winning four medals more than any other contestant.

She is the present bowling queen of the area, where she supplanted Ann Setlock, the day manager at Garden Lanes, a hotbed of women's bowling.

Elvira Toepfer, who won the queen's crown seven times and has been at the top or close to it for more than two decades, is still at it as the instructor at Eastland Bowl.

And so, the women stride the approaches of the nation's bowling establishments. It won't be long until they dominate one of the last male strongholds, toppling tenpins.

EVERY DAY IS LADIES DAY at the nation's bowling alleys and especially in Detroit. Women's participation in bowling is soaring and destined to outnumber male membership.

ANN SETLOCK, 1972 Detroit Hall of Fame champion, is day manager at Garden Lanes and the only Michigan woman to place in the national top 10 in averages this year.

DAY NURSERIES at bowling alleys have proliferated since housewives have been liberated from much time-consuming housework.

THE BOWLING GRANDMOTHER, Marion Ladewig, is rated the greatest woman bowler of all time. She is an eight-time national all-star and woman bowler of the year.

State declines action on Meijer's prescription drug price advertising

The State Board of Pharmacy is not considering taking administrative action against Meijer Thrifty Acres for printing its price board of prescription drugs in the Dec. 25 issue of the Observer & Eccentric.

At issue was the board's regulation which was thought to prohibit media advertising of prescripion drug prices.

Meijers, which has a hypermarket in Canton Township, is the second retail drug store chain to advertise its drug prices in Michigan.

OSCO DRUGS, a national chain headquartered in Chicago, was the first to advertise its pricing policy in Michigan and to test the law. A November 1974 memorandum from the state attorney general's office advised the board that prescription price advertising is legal.

What may be covered under the board's regulation is advertising the advantages of one prescription drug over another, the memo advised.

Harold Hans, vice president of merchandising for Meijers, said: "Our interpretation of the law is that you can't do unethicaladvertising or compare the quality of drugs; not that we can'tadvertise. We don't believe there is any law (prohibiting price advertising), and we believe we are not in disregard of the law."

PRICE BOARD advertising "is the only way customers know to compare prices," Hans said. "Customers have the right to know what they have to pay."

Meijers, Hans said, always has had the 100 most frequently prescribed drug' prices posted on boards inside the stores. These boards, to be required in all pharmacies under a recent law, advertise the price for a drug in its most commonly prescribed quantity.

Hans said earlier this month that Meijers may be doing more drug price advertising based on the Board of Pharmacy's response.

PRICE BOARD advertisingin the media has the official backing of PIRGIM (Public Interest Research Group in Michigan) and the unofficialblessings of the Michigan Consumers Council, which reproduced the Meijer ad in its January newsletter.

"We'd like to see what a little old-fashioned American free enterprise competition can do to reduce inflated prescription drug prices," said Joseph S. Tuchinsky, PIRGIM director.

"Not advertising prices is a business handicap, " he added, noting that other drug stores had indicated that they would like to advertise prices in the media but were afraid their pharmacists' licenses would be endangered.

PIRGIM has initiated a petition for a prompt ruling by the board that pharmacies can legally engage in price advertising. It has also asked the board to adopt a permanent rule to permit "promotion or advertising in print or electronic or other media, or in response to telephonic or other inquiries."

Such a rule would not require druggists to advertise prices, Tuchinsky stressed.

Robert R. Eldredge, executive secretary of the Board of Pharmacy, said Jan. 20 the board is in the process of promulgating a law which would clearly define what the restriction under the current regulation "promoting to the public" means.

He said the board would take into advice the attorney general's office memorandum, which had been written for them initially, but declined to elaborate further on what the proposed law would include.

Behind store fronts

If you are an indecisive shopper, don't come to O'Brien's Man's World. Otherwise you might spend an entire day choosing from among the numerous styles, patterns and brand names available at one of the area's leading men's clothing stores.

A customer could even take two days, splitting his time between the older store at Five Mile and Grand River in Detroit and Livonia store, opened in the fall of 1973, at Seven Mile and Farmington roads.

Choosing your attire really isn't difficult – the Livonia Store offers the services of seven full-time and six part-time sales persons and three tailors.

General manager GREGG TEMPLE points out that he and his staff encourage "the customer to select according to his needs and wants, but of course, with our experience helping in the selection."

That type of service helped account for the sale of more than 6,000 suits and sports coats last year.

The owner of the two stores, HARRY PARTRICH, is no neophyte in the clothing business, selling clothing for manufacturers for 40 years before buying the Detroit store six years ago.

SUBURBAN LIFE

Memories of Sonja--realities of skill

By CORINNE ABATT

A couple of years ago (about 30 to be more exact) a dimpled, blond Swedish figure skater named Sonja Henie held a whole generation of kids spellbound.

One Sonja Henie movie was enough to inspire a mass exodus to the local pond to try to emulate the effortless looking spins and jumps.

Except for the big cities, few, if any, of those pre World War II communities had anything other than natural lake or river ice for skating.

Hastily, in the clear, snapping cold, the youngsters fastened buckle-on blades or laced a pair of hand-me-down shoe skates over the bulk of several pairs of wool socks and set out across the bumpy ice to try what they called "tricks."

TODAY'S YOUNGSTERS still call the fancy stuff tricks, but that's practically the only similarity between figure skating yesterday and today. That and the glittering memory of the petite figure in the fur-trimmed red velvet spinning like a human gyroscope in the center spotlight. The Sonja Henie style of skating is outdated, but the memory lingers on.

As the suburban communities built indoor rinks-Livonia, Redford, Plymouth, Garden City, Westland--the dream moved toward reality for the Sonja Henie generation. They bought new shoe skates that fitted like a second skin, left the wool socks at home, signed up for lessons and telling themselves "it's never too late," took to the ice.

Soon the skaters, aged 20 to 60, found they were right. It wasn't too late and they gradually exchanged the bulky slacks and sweaters for the leotards and hip length costumes which are typical of the figure skater. From basic stroking they progressed to inside and outside back edges, turns, spins and ice dancing.

AT A RECENT Wednesday afternoon dance skating session at Ford rink in Livonia, Sally Hunt was practicing spins and jumps. She wore a short, light blue skating dress, and at a signal, she skated smoothly to the side of the rink placing one foot perpendicular to the other for a quick "T" stop.

Until she heard from a neighbor about the figure skating program at the rink four years ago, she had been a "pond skater." Since then she has taken lessons and skates twice a week during the season. She does ice dancing and is in the advanced free style group.

"I always wanted to skate like Sonja Henie. I thought she was tremendous."

She has a daughter, Kris, 9, who is taking skating lessons and a son, Don, 14.

CANDY SAXON of Livonia, comes up alongside. She is wearing a deep purple skating costume, a striking contrast to her blond hair.

In her third year of figure skating, Mrs. Saxon says, "I always wanted to take figure skating lessons from the time I was a little girl, but I never dreamed I'd be doing the things I'm doing today."

Her ability rating has gone, in the three-year period, from beginner to advanced and in the process won the admiration of her husband, Scott, as well as many skating friends. Her son, Sean, and his father are both hockey players. She hopes that by next year daughter, Kelly, 3, will be able to take lessons.

BERYL BRANDT, regular at the Plymouth rink, has accomplished something many friends have not been able to. She talked her husband, Kenneth, into a pair of figure skates.

As many of the women will testify, it isn't easy to get hockey players into figure skates. Once accomplished, they are quickly convinced that it opens up a whole new world of challenges and in the process improves the hockey playing.

Mrs. Brandt put a pair of skates on for the first time less than two years ago after watching her sons play hockey and her daughters take figure skating lessons. She's a member of the ice dancing group at the Plymouth arena and says her husband likes it too.

She gets to the rink several times a week for lessons or practice.

"I won't tell you how often I come," she said. My husband would kill me if he knew."

At the rink she always finds the dozen or more close friends she has met through the hobby. Among them are program director ald teacher, Barbara Thacker, pro shop owner and fellow skater, Nancy Toth and skaters Barbara Bonar and Sue Reidel.

IF HUSBANDS comment on the time spent at the rink, (and some might if they knew how much) there's another side to the story.

It takes only a few minutes conversation to realize the change skating has made in their lives. After their families, it comes first. They have no time for coffee klatches or cards, nor do they make idle conversation about menus, diets or friends' domestic problems.

Now, as devotees of the growing sport they talk of mohawks (a type of turn used in ice dancing), three turns (a one foot turn that makes a three design on the ice), inside edges, outside edges, spins and jumps.

Diet conversation is passe. Mrs. Thacker says, "Skating is really a great exercise for the cardiovascular system. The gals I know who skate don't have an inch of flab. They're all solid rock."

MRS. THACKER started skating in earnest seven years ago at Livonia's Ford rink under program director, Mrs. Bev Griffin.

When the Plymouth rink opened three years ago, she began the figure skating program and now she and the seven instructors working with her teach around 800 persons each week.

The baby sitting service, Tuesdays and Wednesdays, at the Plymouth rink, is a boon to mothers like Mrs. Riedel who has two pre-schoolers.

Others have found that with skill and interest in the sport, there's the possibility of a part-time or full-time job. Nancy Toth took over the pro shop at the Plymouth rink a year ago. When she isn't busy fitting skates, talking shop with hockey or figure skaters or handling the very successful skate rental business, she's on the ice.

Mrs. Toth has passed her enthusiasm on to daughter, Tina, who came in second in tiny tot competition in Garden City not long ago and to son, Billy, a hockey player.

MRS. BONAR, mother of five young skaters, designs, makes and sells skating costumes. An avid skater, she says if there's isn't a car available, she'll walk to the rink rather than miss a session.

Elsie Melnick, skating instructor at the Redford rink, began taking lessons seven years at ago in Livonia. Several others who started at the same time mow are teaching in other suburban rinks.

Mrs. Griffin says they all come back to Livonia regularly for advanced lessons, adding, "Most are mothers, they have great patience with the kids. They teach the beginners and most recreation programs like that because the pros would rather teach the more advanced."

MANY GOOD SKATERS in the area have joined the figure skating club at the Plymouth rink which buys private ice time from the Plymouth Cultural Center and allows the very skilled to get together.

Those who believe they're never too old can count on spending around $50 for their first, good pair of skates. The fit is paramount. "Tight," is the word.

Mrs. Thacker says, "You can always tell figure skaters, they can't walk."

A session of eight group lessons runs $11 in Plymouth, close to the same at other rinks. Open skating runs from 50 to 75 cents a session and most rinks have noon or early afternoon sessions that are almost exclusively adults.

Most pros don't recommend private lessons for adults until they have reached at least the intermediate level. These run around $7 a half an hour.

SKATING PROGRAMS sanctioned by the United States Figure Skating Association (USFSA) test at various levels to determine proficiency and progress. In the lower stages, those who pass receive patches. The top levels are rated, bronze, silver and gold medal.

Initially, many chose skating as number one sport over skiing because of convenience and cost. Eventually, it is the challenge of the sport itself which grabs hold.

And for the housewives and mothers who are flocking to the rinks in ever increasing numbers, it is the memory of that dimpled blond lady, skimming over the ice as though she had wings.

WEARING A SKATING costume of her own design, Barbara Bonar of Plymouth gets ready for her lesson.

THE ONLY MAN regularly in attendance at the Wednesday afternoon dance sessions at Livonia Ford rink, Fred Hartt, has his pick of pretty partners. This time it's Geraldine Ford.

Camp Fire Girls' annual candy sale to begin Friday

Camp Fire Girls of the Wa-no-su district will begin setting up shop for candy sales in many local centers Friday, Jan. 24.

Their annual offering of chocolate-covered mints and peanut crunch in distinctive red, white and blue boxes will be available in shopping centers, banks, bowling alleys and other businesses at various times in the next three weeks.

Members of CFG groups in this area are joining the Detroit Area Council drive to sell 216,000 boxes to help support the organization's Camp Wathana, near Holly.

"Say YES to Camp Fire Candy," is the slogan of the sale. The boxes will be $1.25 this year because of the much-increased cost of sugar.

ADDED PARTICIPATION by many Camp Fire members, leaders and families and a streamlining of distribution procedure has been planned to get the top proceeds possible from the sale.

Beginning in mid-January, trucks have been delivering thousands of cases of candy to some 70 homes in the metropolitan area designated as Candy Cupboards.

From there, leaders have picked up supplies for their groups.

In earlier years, large vans delivered leaders' orders to individual homes, making as many as 360 stops in the metropolitan area. This costly procedure has been changed this year.

Besides selling the candy from booths and tables in community centers, the Camp Fire Girls will do some neighborhood selling with adult supervision. The girls will wear their red, white and blue uniforms for the project.

THE CFG PROGRAM has four divisions covering an age range of second grade through high school. Each group earns a small profit on the boxes of candy sold by its members, but the greater share of the proceeds go to support the camp.

Wathana comprises 380 acres of woods and lakes and is open for year-round camping for members and other groups and individuals.

Camp Fire Girls Detroit Area Council is a Torch Drive agency with a current membership of nearly 8,000 in the tri-county area. Nationally, the organization serves more than a half million.

LIVONIA CAMP FIRE GIRL Lisa Maxwell was with a delegation that took a box of CFG candy to Detroit Police Chief Philip Tannian to launch the Jan. 24 to Feb. 15 sale. Young Alexander Whitfield of Detroit holds the collection canister.

Sr. Raynelda, Madonna expansion leader, is dead

A mass of the Resurrection was concelebrated for Sister Mary Raynelda, former president of Madonna College, Thursday in the Felician Sisters Provincial House Chapel. Burial was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

A special service of translation of the body to the chapel was held Wednesday. Sister Raynelda, 68, died Monday in St. Joseph Hospital in Pontiac, after a heart attack.

She was president of the college from 1960 to 1965 and made a remarkable contribution to its growth and expansion from classes in the Motherhouse to the modern buildings of today.

SISTER MARY RAYNELDA

Sr. Raynelda— 'She gave unstintingly of herself'

SISTER RAYNELDA played a major role in the plans and construction of the women's and faculty residence, which also includes the cafeteria, and also was a leader in the planning and construction of the academic and administration buildings.

It was through her efforts that Madonna College was accredited by the North Central Association.

Leaving Madonna in 1970, she became the first woman to assume an administrative position at St. Mary College, part of the Orchard Lake Schools. She was named assistant to the academic dean as well as professor of English.

"THE FELICIAN COMMUNITY of Livonia sustained a great loss in the death of Sister Mary Raynelda Makarewicz," said Mother Mary Columbine, provincial superior of the Felician sisters. "As a professor of English in 1952, academic dean in 1954, and third president of Madonna College from 1960-65, she made a remarkable contribution to the growth and expansion of this educational institution in the Livonia community.

"Under her leadership the new academic building, the women's and faculty residence were constructed. Through her untiring efforts, Madonna College was accredited by the North Central Association.

"A commendable mark of her character was to take on new assignments when the challenge was presented. This she did in accepting an invitation to assume an administrative position as assistant to the dean at St. Mary's College, Orchard Lake, an all-male institution since gone co-ed."

Mother Columbine said Sister Raynelda "touched the lives of many young men and women" in her 51 years as teacher, administrator and educator.

"She gave of herself unstintingly with no thought of recompense but service to others," the mother superior added. "We will miss her."

SISTER RAYNELDA was born in Detroit in 1906 and entered the Felician order in 1923. She received her bachelor of arts degree from the University of Detroit, a master of arts from Notre Dame and a doctorate from Catholic University of America.

Her doctoral dissertation, "The Patristic Influence on Chaucer," merited an honorary membership in the international Mark Twain Society for distinguished contributions to literature. A copy of her work was acknowledged by the Library of the Vatican.

From 1925 until her death, Sr. Raynelda was actively engaged in all levels of educational endeavor. She taught in parochial elementary and high schools in the Archdiocese of Detroit, in Alpena and in Saginaw before joining the Madonna faculty.

Survivors include four sisters, Mrs. Jean Farkas, Mrs. Martha Borla, Mrs. Mary Colasinski, and Mrs. Margaret Enesey; and two brothers, Frank and Aloysius Mararewicz.

Gymnastics classes to start

Registration will begin the week of Monday, Jan. 27 for the winter gymnastics workshops sponsored by the Southfield Association for Gymnastics.

The classes will begin the week of Monday, Feb. 3 and will be given for 12 weeks. Non-residents are welcome, although subject to resident priority. All classes are co-ed.

The courses to be offered include tot-tumbling for pre-schoolers and kindergarters, and beginning elementary classes for grades one to six.

Advanced elementary classes will be given as will evening workshops.

Tuition fees for one child per family start at $12.50 (tot); $17.50 (beg. elem.); $20 (adv. elem.) and $32.50 (evenings).

For further information contact the gymnastic association, 18945 Adrian, Southfield.

Kensington named after ghost town

Kensington Metropark near Milford is named after the Town of Kensington settled in the early 1830's, which became a ghost town by 1890. Kensington Metropark opened in 1948 and is one of Michigan's best-known recreational sites.

Newcomers' topic

'How to keep a husband happy'

JAMES FREER

The care and feeding of a happy husband is the topic for the February luncheon meeting of the Plymouth Newcomers' Club.

The event is scheduled Thursday, Feb. 6, in the Sherwood Inn on Plymouth Road east of Levan in Livonia.

James Freer, professor of psychology at the University of Detroit, will be the speaker.

His talk, "How to keep your husband happy," is one of a number of lectures the guest has presented in the Detroit area. In his lectures, he deals with personal fulfillment, human development, childhood and adolescence.

Freer is a native Detroiter and has a doctorate from Wayne State University.

In addition to his talk, there will be a short presentation by a representative of the Plymouth Center for Human Development.

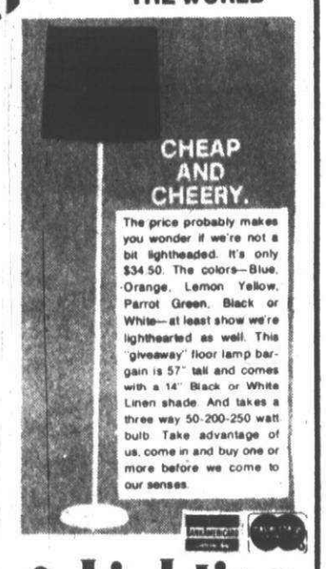

The Newcomers organization is planning an Easter party for some of the youngsters at the center.

The luncheon meeting will begin with a hospitality hour at 12 noon and the meal will be served at 12:30 p.m. Tickets are $4.50, and reservations must be made by Thursday, Jan. 30, earlier than usual, by calling Mrs. Earl Olson, 14532 Oxford.

Babysitting will be available at St. John Episcopal Church, 574 S. Sheldon, Plymouth. The charge is $1.50 for one child and 75 cents for each additional child. Make reservations by calling Mrs. David Griffith, 44741 Eric Pass, Plymouth.

Stringham-Gabrys

Mr. and Mrs. C.A. Stringham of Brentwood Drive, Plymouth, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sue Ann, of Colorado Springs, to Karl F. Gabrys Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl F. Gabrys Sr. of Detroit. The bride-elect graduated in 1971 from Plymouth High School and in 1974 from Michigan State University and is working as activities director at Birkshire, Inc., in Colorado Springs. Her fiance, a 1971 graduate of Bishop Borgess High School, will graduate in June from the U.S. Air Force Academy with an engineering degree. He plans to enter jet pilot training after the couple's June wedding in Plymouth.

Oakley-Lyttle

Mr. and Mrs. William Oakley of Romulus announce the engagement of their daughter, Sheila, to James Lyttle of Flint, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lyttle of Eric Pass, Plymouth. The bride-elect will graduate in May from Central Michigan University. Her fiance graduated from Plymouth High School in 1970 and from CMU in 1974 and is employed as a territorial manager for Burroughs Corp. in Flint. Their wedding date is June 28.

Free classes offered seniors

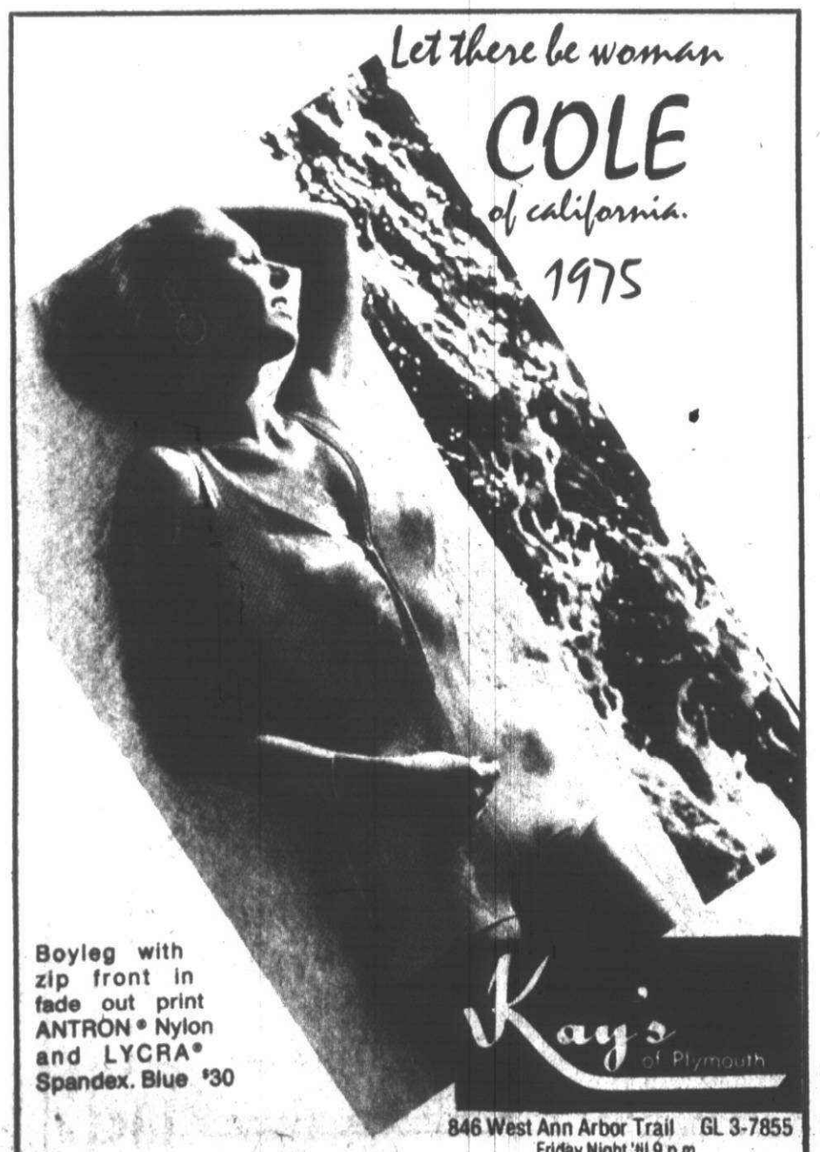

Classes on medicare, the visiting nurse program and defensive driving will be among those offered by Schoolcraft College at its forum for senior adults to begin Thursday, Jan. 23 in the Canton Township Fire Hall, 128 Canton Center, at Cherry Hill.

Titled "Health and Safety in the Later Years," the forum will meet from 1-3 p.m. each Thursday through Feb 27. There will be no charge.

Medicare will be discussed by Thelma Glass of Michigan Blue Cross, while Nancy Cozak RN, will talk on the Visiting Nurse Association. Retired fire chief Gerald Montgomery will offer advice on fire safety in the home.

Defensive driving will be taught by Ted Bussey of the Detroit Safety Council, first aid by the Canton Township Fire Department, and "Family and Friends in the Later Years — Rx for Good Health" by social worker Margaret Larson.

Ford wives set new activities

The music of Earl Goodfellow and his country and western band will be the highlight of a meeting of the Ford Wives Club Tuesday, Jan. 28 at 8 p.m. at Ford World Headquarters, Michigan at Southfield in Dearborn.

An added attraction will be Little Audrey, who sings and plays the bongo drums.

Ford wives night at the races will be Feb. 13 when busloads of club members and guests leave World Headquarters for the Windsor racetrack.

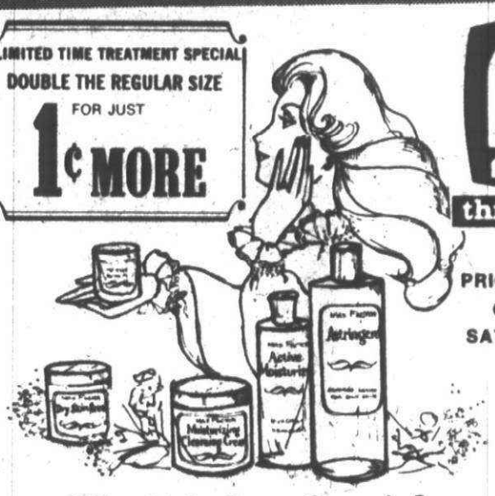

Nancy Kennedy, food editor for Ford Times magazine, will speak at the Feb. 25 meeting.

Fashions for 1975 will be the theme of a fashion show planned for March 11. An evening event, this show will feature both men's and women's fashions.

Membership fee of the club is $5 with wives and widows of Ford employees and retirees eligible to join.

Plymouth high society kept busy in 1890s

PLYMOUTH—PAST AND PRESENT
by Sam Hudson

(PART I)

Plymouth in the 1890s was a livelier place than one would expect in a village whose population had not yet reached the 2,000 mark. We tend to forget that pleasure was not invented in the Twentieth century. As Aldous Huxley pointed out, speed is the only genuinely modern pleasure.

Fortunately, we do not have to guess how the residents of Plymouth relaxed in the pre-automotive, pre-electronic era.

We have Mamie Conner's 1890 journal.

In its pages, Miss Conner, who was then 22, recorded the dances she attended, the games she and her contemporaries played at home parties, what they saw at the theater, what they read, how they got about, and the refreshments they enjoyed.

Mamie E. Conner was the daughter of Michael Conner, who founded the Conner Hardware store in Plymouth in 1857. It was located in the building at the corner of Main and Penniman, which now houses Harvi's clothing store.

Mamie's father, who owned the block, was a prominent citizen, having been president of the village in 1868, 1869, 1884, and 1889. He was still in office in 1890, the year Mamie started her journal. The Conner home stood at the corner of Penniman and South Harvey, where the Marathon Gas Station is now located.

Dancing ranked high among the social pleasures when Mamie was in her twenties. On Feb. 21, 1890, she attended a ball at the Berdan House on Main Street. The music, by Finney's Orchestra of Detroit, was only "fair," but Mamie continued to dance until 4 a.m. Three nights later she went to the BBC dance at Amity Hall, where 40 couples waltzed until 2 a.m. to the strains of Harmon's New Orchestra. On March 14, Mamie was among those at the OHD dance at Berdan's where the Harmon group again performed until 2 a.m. On April 3, she was at the Knights of Pythias dance at the hotel until 2:30 a.m.

On Feb. 19, 1892, Mamie, along with 50 others from Plymouth, took the 7:30 p.m. train to Northville to attend a KP dance. Most came back on the 2 a.m. train, but Mamie rode back with Harry Bradner, arriving home about 4 a.m. On March 10, she tells us that her dress for the "Calico Ball" was brown and white striped gingham, with a white embroidered front. On March 18, she notes that she attended the Leap Year Ball, at which 90 couples danced until 3:30 a.m. They never went to bed early in the Gay '90s!

To keep up with the new dances, Mamie, usually squired by Bert Roe, attended the dancing schools which frequently set up in the village. At the dancing school on Jan. 6, 1892, she learned the Quadrille, the Schottische, and the Berlin. On Feb. 5, Mamie noted that 70 couples were at the dancing school. On Feb. 27, at Frank Holloway's Dancing School for ladies, she performed "The Detroit," "The Duchess," "The Gaiety," and the "Rush-Polka." Mamie danced until she "was almost dead."

On March 1, at Holloways, some prankster locked the ladies in and "they had to burst the door to get out." On March 8, a large crowd attended Holloway's closing ball. The professor was presented with a $60 diamond stud.

As Moliere wrote, "Heaven forbids certain pleasures but one manages to compromise." On Feb. 23, 1890, Mamie, who attended the Presbyterian Church, heard a sermon against card playing. She recorded the fact in her journal, but went right on playing cards. Mamie and her friends were constantly playing Casino, Whist, and Authors.

She was especially fond of Pedro, a form of Seven-up, in which the five of trumps counts as its face value. One of the gifts she received for Christmas in 1890 was a "Pedro-bag."

On Jan. 4, 1890, Mamie's close friend, Eva Leach, invited her to a progressive Pedro party at which 24 people made up six tables. The supper was "elegant." It included Saratoga chips, boiled ham, scallopped oysters, cream, chocolate and angel food cake, oranges, bananas, and ice cream.

The young couples played Pedro until 1 a.m. Harry McClumpha won the first prize. Ed Bennett (who later married Eva) won the booby prize. Among the others attending were Maud Sherwood, Ed and Mary Hough, John Wilcox, May Bennett, Clarence and Jen Westfall, Mabel Stevens, Milton Moore, Nell Crosby, Homer Safford, Nellie Steele, Will Berdan, Bert Bennett, Mary Rodgers, Harry Bradner, Lucy Ladd, Len Caswell, Jess Steers, Irving Durfee, and, of course, Bert Roe and Mamie Conner.

Other party games mentioned in Mamie's journal are Tiddly-wink (a game played with dominoes), Parchesi, and "Misery," a game apparently quite popular in 1892.

Book auctions, often held at Amity Hall, also attracted Miss Conner. In September 1890, she bought some of the works of Ouida, the pen-name of Marie Louise Ramee, the author of "Under Two Flags." She also acquired "The Treasury of Song" for $1.20, and a copy of Tennyson's poems for 98 cents. Bert Roe bought her one of Bulwer-Lytton's novels.

In 1892, Mamie read "The World, the Flesh and the Devil," "Cherry Ripe," "What's Bred in the Bone," "Robert Ord's Atonement," "Stella's Shadow," "The Late Mrs. Mill," and Wilkie Collins' "Miss or Mrs."

(Part II will discuss Mamie Conner's visits to the theater in the 1890s).

Workshop set on Zen

Roshi Philip Kapleau, spiritual director of the Zen center in Rochester, N.Y., will visit Ann Arbor Jan. 24 and 25 to lecture and conduct a workshop on Zen Buddhism.

The free lecture is scheduled Friday, Jan. 24 at 4 p.m. in the University of Michigan modern language building. The workshop will run from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the ballroom of the Michigan Union. The cost is $15 for the general public and $10 for students.

The Stroller

Real salesmen: Where are they now?

By W. W. EDGAR

While the country has been going from a period of record prosperity to the brink of depression with its long lines of unemployed, closed factories and a large backlog of unsold cars, we seem to have lost the art of salesmanship and the colorful characters who helped keep the nation's business humming.

Somewhere along the line these fellows with "the gift of gab" who could sell most anything have been sidetracked.

This loss was driven home to The Stroller within the past few weeks when the car companies, in their eagerness to reduce the stockpile of late models, started offering bonuses up to $600 to new car buyers.

THIS OFFER became more puzzling when it was suggested that the prospective buyer first make a deal with the dealer and then apply to the home company for the cash bonus.

This bonus offer comes just a few weeks after the same companies claimed they couldn't reduce the price of the new cars to lure customers because their margin of profit averaged only about $75 per car. Now they're offering a bonus for each sale!

What is even more puzzling is The Stroller hasn't received a single phone call from the dealers or salesmen he knows asking if he is in the market for a new car.

Stranger still is that he has lunch each week with several dealers and, as yet, hasn't been approached as a prospect.

That's not all. He hasn't been visited by the Fuller Brush man or the Avon Lady either.

COME TO think of it, he hasn't been approached directly by a car salesman for years. Only a week ago he visited a showroom with several salesmen standing around and he wasn't even invited by them to look at the new models.

When was the last time you were approached by a salesman and asked to consider a new car?

Looking back over the years, The Stroller doesn't recall ever having been asked outright to buy a car—and he's been an owner since the days when the 'Model A' was the hottest thing on the automobile market.

THROUGH MOST of those years, he has driven a Ford product and the purchases were made from a friend, the late John Hettche, who had a large Ford dealership at 14th St. and W. Grand Blvd. in Detroit.

Hettche was a shrewd operator. So were Bill Clark, his right hand man, and Bill Truchon, the top salesman.

The combined efforts of this trio made the Hettche agency the largest in the country. Yet, not one of them ever asked The Stroller to buy a car.

Instead, Hettche, a great sportsman, kept a mental record of his sales and about every two years he would drive downtown in a new model. Oftimes he'd stop and take The Stroller as a passenger. Many times he drove out of his way just to show the riding qualities of the new car— but he never asked if The Stroller was interested. He never even spoke about the new model.

HE USED the Hettche psychology. That ride was like showing a hungry man a piece of steak. It would make him long for it.

This system seldom failed. After one of these rides to a sports meeting, The Stroller seldom failed to call and ask:

"How soon can I get one of those new models?"

The Hettches and their kind have gone from the scene and the economy is the worse for it. They were a noble band who didn't depend on cash bonuses from the company to make a sale.

Incidentally, have you been asked to buy a new car lately, or even taken for a ride?

Wrong school

PLYMOUTH—Two local residents have been honored recently for academic achievement at Kalamazoo College, and not Western Michigan University as previosuly stated. The students are Frank P. Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reynolds, 39580 Ann Arbor Trail, and Martha J. Staff, daughter of Mrs. Eugene Stermer, 41339 Ivywood Lane.

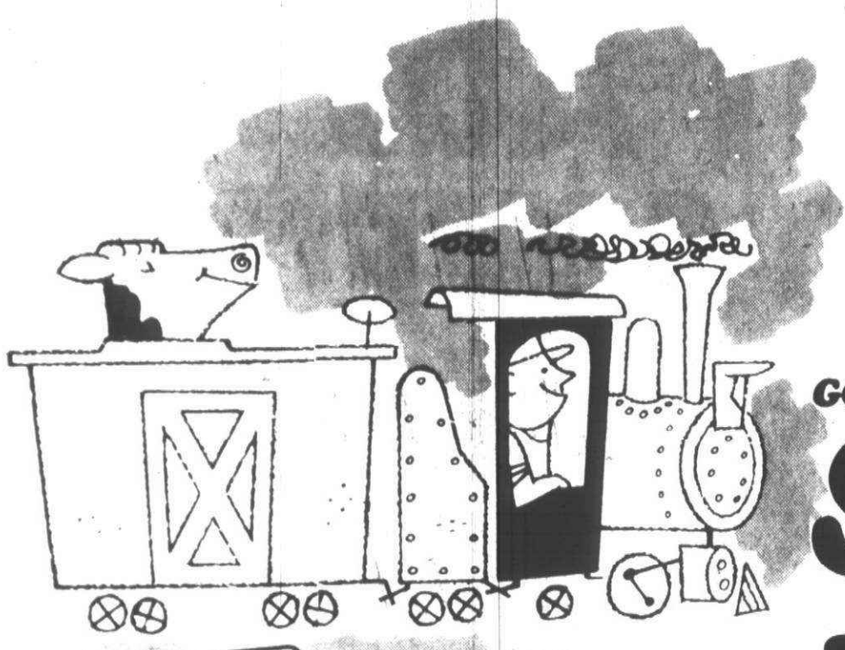

Both completed the quarter with at least a 3.5 grade point average.

Detroit ranks fourth as port

Despite a $40 million drop in collections, Detroit ranks as the fourth largest port in the country according to U.S. Customs figures for 1973.

Detroit receipts totaled $253 million. It ranks behind New York, Los Angeles and John F. Kennedy Airport.

BEEF BURGUNDY

3 pounds 1½ inch cubed lean beef
2½ cups Burgundy
⅛ teaspoon garlic powder
⅛ teaspoon thyme
½ bay leaf
¼ cup oil
3 tablespoons flour
1 package dehydrated onion soup mix
1½ cups water
5 small cubed carrots (optional)
1 8-ounce can small drained onions
1 4-ounce can drained mushrooms

Combine 2 cups wine, garlic powder, thyme and bay leaf. Pour over beef and allow to stand for 2 hours; drain, saving liquid. Dry beef cubes on absorbent paper. Heat oil in a frying pan; add beef and brown. Remove beef to a baking dish. Stir flour into oil in frying pan. Add wine mixture, onion soup mix and water; stir until mixture boils. Pour over beef, cover and bake at 300° for 2 hours until tender. While beef is in oven, cook carrots in small amount of boiling water. Add cooked carrots, onions and mushrooms with remaining wine when beef is ten der. Bake for 15 minutes to heat vegetables thoroughly. Serves 6.

SAUERBRATEN

3-pound round steak
1 tablespoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 chopped celery stalks
2 sliced onions
1 sliced carrot
6 cloves
6 whole black peppercorns
1 cup red wine vinegar
4 bay leaves
5 to 6 cups water
2 tablespoons oil
6 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon sugar
6 crushed gingersnaps

Season meat with salt and pepper. Place in a bowl. Combine celery, onions, carrot, cloves, peppercorns, vinegar, bay leaves, and 5 to 6 cups water (at enough to cover meat. Pour mixture over meat. Cover, place in refrigerator 3 days. Turn meat 2 or 3 times a day. Drain meat and wipe dry with absorbent paper. Fry in oil and 2 tablespoons butter until brown on all sides. Strain marinade liquid. Add to browned meat, bring to a boil. Lower heat. Cover and simmer 3 hours. Melt rest of butter in frying pan. Blend in flour and sugar. Simmer until dark brown. Add to meat mixture. Cover, simmer 1 hour more. Place meat on a hot platter. Stir crushed gingersnaps into meat juices in pan. Cook until thick. Pour over meat. Serves 6.

Prosecutor says

Tough enforcement needed for gun control

By DENNY COFFMAN

A prosecuting attorney and a National Rifle Association board member shared similar opinions about gun control laws at a Michigan Municipal League Region III meeting of western Wayne County government officials Jan. 16.

"We have adequate laws now. All we need to do is enforce them," said L. Brooks Patterson, Oakland County prosecutor.

An intense law enforcement program has brought a sharp decrease in violent crimes in Oakland County, according to Patterson.

HE INDICATED that persons charged with carrying concealed weapons there lose their right to plea bargaining and can be charged to the full extent of the law.

Since the "get tough" approach has been in effect, Patterson claims convictions have increased 1,700 per cent.

Pontiac is perhaps the best example of the result of the more aggressive countywide enforcement program.

That Oakland County city "is a microcosm of Detroit, with similar ethnic and unemployment characteristics," Patterson said.

"Since we've invoked stronger enforcement, homocides have decreased 24 per cent; armed robberies, 22 per cent; and assaults six per cent.

"New legislation is not a panacea. We don't need more legislation. We have adequate laws now," he concluded.

ROBERT LINDAHL, a member of the board of the National Rifle Association and an accoustical engineer in Trenton, Mich., agreed that tougher enforcement is needed.

He was critical of social workers and persons he described as "sob sisters" who, he said, allowed arrested persons to escape conviction.

"The main objective," said Lindahl, "ought to be crime control not gun control. Historically it's been proven that it's impossible to keep criminals from getting guns.

"They can make them. They can steal them. They can rent them.

"But if you prohibit handguns, then you make the honest citizen vulnerable to attack," he said.

"I BELIEVE, however, that there ought to be a mandatory sentence for any person involved in a criminal act and using a handgun," said Lindahl.

He claimed that greater gun control would place persons living in suburban and rural areas in danger, especially senior citizens.

"Most homicides occur in Detroit's inner city area among blacks 19-35 years of age," he said. "Prohibiting the possession of handguns won't stop these people from getting them from other parts of the country, the Southern states, for example, but would leave honest citizens in areas such as Westland unprotected."

Lindahl stated that Westland is the 10th safest city in the U. S.

"WE OUGHT to stress education, not confiscation," said Lindahl, who had helped arrange a gun safety course in Trenton with the help of local police.

"Guns are as safe in the home as ladders, the bathtub and the medicine cabinet.

"Violence will not be prevented by making laws against an inanimate object. It's as old as Cain and Abel," concluded Lindahl.

2 congressmen back Dem caucus

Local congressmen were in the forefront of Democratic caucus maneuvering to oust long-time powerful U.S. House committee chairmen last week.

Both U.S. Reps. William Ford (D-Taylor) and William Brodhead (D-Detroit) voted with the majority to dump Armed Services Chairman F. Edward Hebert (152-133) and Agriculture Chairman W.R. Poage (144-141).

Although both voted to depose Wright Patman of the Banking Committee, they were unsuccessful in their attempt.

FORD SAID he had mixed emotions about Patman, but felt he was "a little old (82) and slow. His instinct is great. I don't remember voting any differently than he on most issues. He's a great populist..."

Patman is expected to face a challenge in a Wednesday caucus meeting from Rep. Henry Reuss of Wisconsin. Reuss, who will have the backing of both Ford and Brodhead, successfully challenged Patman for the Democratic Steering and Policy Committee recommendation Jan. 15. The committee's decision was overturned by the caucus Thursday. Brodhead, a freshman whose district includes Redford Township, is a committee member.

Rep. Bob Stevens also is expected to challenge Patman.

BRODHEAD also voted against retaining Wayne L. Hays in the Administration Committee chairmanship, but the caucus majority voted in favor of keeping him.

Ford said Friday he did not recall his vote on Hays because he thought both Hays and his opposition were equally good. Ford's district includes Westland, Garden City and Canton Township.

Hebert and Poage were singled out as "prime targets" for removal, according to Ford, who said he "helped to arrange" the dismissals.

Hebert, in an unprecedented move, announced his intention to fight to save his chairmanship in a House floor fight. But unless he can muster Republican support the position will most likely go to Rep. Mel Price (D-Ill.).

Poage's job probably will go to Rep. Thomas Foley of Washington.

WHILE NOT SEEN as an overturn of the seniority system, the dumping of the powerful and sometimes dictatorial chairmen is a signpost of the new Democratic wave to hit Congress.

"The people elected 75 new people (Democratic representatives) The people sent a message that they wanted something done. If we didn't make changes, we wouldn't be carrying out what the people want done," said Brodhead. "The place is so poorly organized," Brodhead continued. "We certainly haven't overturned or abolished the seniority system, but we have made more progress now than they have in 30 or 40 years."

Ford explained that the rules the Democrats employed in the ouster had been passed as long as four years ago. They were authored by Rep. John O'Hara (D-Utica). The Michigan delegation has been very much in the middle of the reform movement. "Now was the time to move," Ford said.

The effect of the caucus action, both Ford and Brodhead agree, will be to make new committee chairmen responsive to the caucus and "easier to deal with in the future," as Ford put it.

All the reform may seem to be internal in nature, Brodhead added, but it will have an outcome in legislation.

9 billion calls made by telephone users in Michigan

More than nine billion telephone calls were made by Michigan residents in 1973. In the U.S., 188 billion phone calls were made to establish new national and state records.

Nationally, this averages almost 6,000 calls per second — the greatest volume of any nation in the world — and is four times larger than the 44 billion calls reported by Japan which is the second most talkative nation.

SOUTHFIELD maintained its second position among cities with more telephones than people — an achievement made possible by the large number of commercial offices, merchandising centers, plus extra phones per residential unit.

These statistics are from "The World's Telephones," a booklet published each year by AT&T's Long Lines department, the Bell system's interstate and international operating unit.

The publication gives details about telephones and their worldwide use. Because it takes a year to compile the statistics from some 1,400 principal cities in 171 countries, figures reflect the status as of Jan. 1, 1974.

THE U.S. led all other nations with 138.3 million telephones and had an average of 65.5 phones per 100 persons, compared to a worldwide average of 8.6 per 100.

Four U.S. cities have more telephones than people. Washington, D.C. heads the list with 130.3 phones for each 100 persons, followed by Southfield with 126.2, Champaign, Ill., with 103.1, and Palo Alto, Calif., with 102.2. Stockholm is the only foreign city in this category with 104.8 phones for each 100 persons.

During 1973, Taiwan achieved the largest individual growth rate in total phones with a 24.4 per cent increase. South Korea led the world in the last decade with a telephone growth of 493.3 per cent.

Other figures show there was a record gain of 23.4 million phones, or 7.5 per cent, in the world's telephones during 1973.

This increase brought the global total to 326.3 billion phones — a 96.5 per cent increase over 10 years for an average annual growth rate of almost 10 per cent.

BELL SYSTEMS telephones connect with more than 99.5 per cent of the world's phones, up from 98 per cent in 1972.

Meijer Thrifty Acres lowers sugar prices

Meijer Thrifty Acres, with a store in Canton Township, is passing along the recent drop in wholesale sugar prices to its customers. When the wholesale price of sugar dropped 23-3/4 cents on each five-pound bag, Meijer lowered its retail price in Detroit 23 cents a bag.

Your monthly rental includes electricity

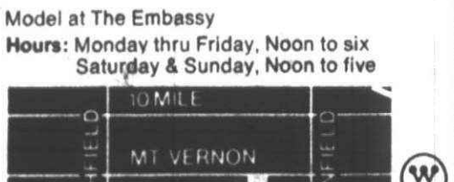

If you add your electric bill to what you are now paying for rent, you'll probably get a surprising total. Average apartment electricity runs from $16 to $22 dollars a month. There's just one check to write. And that covers everything. Do some quick figuring and you'll see you're money ahead at The Diplomat and The Embassy.

You can live in some places for years, and never feel at home. Not at Deerfield Woods! You'll get the real contented feeling of being "settled" here, from the very first day you move in. Settled. . . and secure.

Every one and two bedroom apartment has been built and equipped with top-quality materials for your convenience and comfort. A beautiful, private swimming pool with spacious sun patio offers the last word in leisure living. And you get all this in the tranquil setting of suburban Livonia.

Come out and see us this weekend. Deerfield Woods is a great place to visit. . . and even greater place to live!
